Suella Braverman resigns as UK Home Secretary

London: Indian-origin British Home Secretary Suella Braverman resigned on Wednesday after a "mistake" in using her private email for ministerial communication in London. Braverman was appointed Home Secretary 43 days ago when British Prime Minister Liz Truss took charge at 10 Downing Street. Her exit followed a face-to-face meeting with Truss on Wednesday after which she posted her resignation letter on Twitter. | P14

RUPEE LOSES 61 PAISE TO DROP BELOW 83-MARK FOR 1ST TIME

The local currency opened strong at 82.32 but slipped to an all-time low of 83.01 on Wednesday, before closing at 82.99

DOLLAR STRENGTHENS, CAPITAL OUTFLOWS UP

The record fall came on the back of unabated foreign capital outflows and a strong dollar in the overseas markets. The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, rose 0.31% to 112.48. Besides, rising crude prices in international markets and risk-averse sentiment among investors weighed on the local currency, traders said | P15

IMPORTS MAY BECOME MORE EXPENSIVE

- In the previous session on Tuesday, the Indian currency had slipped 10 paise to end at 82.40 against the US dollar
- When the rupee depreciates, it makes imports more expensive and hurts those who have borrowed abroad. However, it could improve returns for exporters who receive payments in dollars

No surprise as Kharge wins Cong poll

The 80-year-old Dalit leader from Karnataka and a strong Gandhi family loyalist secures 7,897 votes against Shashi Tharoor's 1,072

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

VETERAN Congress leader Mallikarjun Kharge emerged victorious in the presidential elections held on Monday, becoming the first non-Gandhi family leader to head the grand old party in 24 years. He will officially take over the position from Sonia Gandhi on October 26.

Kharge, a staunch Gandhi family loyalist who was widely perceived to be the 'official' candidate, defeated his rival Lok Sabha MP Shashi Tharoor by a margin of over 6,000 votes. While the Karnataka leader secured 7,897 votes, Tharoor managed to get 1,072 out of the over 9,300 votes polled.

While congratulations poured in for Kharge on his new responsibility, the 80-year-old Dalit leader expressed his resolve to 'fight against conspiracies to kill democracy'. In his first press conference after being elected the AICC chief, Kharge thanked interim chief Sonia Gandhi, the longest-serving Congress president, highlighting the personal sacrifices she made for the party.

The election is significant for the Congress in the sense that the contest for the top post took place after a gap of two decades. The last election for the post of president was held in 2000, in which Sonia won with a thumping majority trouncing rival candidate Jitendra Prasada.

The elevation of Kharge, a Dalit leader from Karnataka, is expected to boost the party's prospects in the Assembly elections next year as well as in the 2024 general elections.

Although Kharge's victory was a foregone conclusion, analysts say Tharoor bagging 12% of the votes polled was equally impressive. Tharoor, who had raised allegations of preferential treatment to Kharge by senior party leaders and an 'uneven pitch' during his campaigns, reiterated his claims even after the results were out. In a letter to the party's chief electoral officer Madhusudan Mistry, Tharoor's campaign team member Salman Soz said, "The facts are damning and the election process in Uttar Pradesh is devoid of credibility and integrity." The letter alleged the use of unofficial seals for ballot boxes and the presence of unofficial persons in polling booths.

Talking to reporters later, Tharoor said he didn't pitch himself as a candidate of dissent. "I was a candidate for change," he said. On the lack of a level-playing field, he said "I continued to bat on an uneven pitch... There were bound to be glitches in the process." P8,11

Rahul will be PM face: Gaurav Gogoi

Amid questions over the role of Rahul Gandhi in the party after Kharge became the Congress chief, senior party leader Gaurav Gogoi said Rahul will be the prime ministerial face of the party in the 2024 general elections. "It is evident that Rahul Gandhi is the PM face for 2024. There are many Congress workers who feel that Rahul is the best person to be PM," he said

RECRUITMENT SCAM

IN MULTIPLE RAIDS, CID ARRESTS 38 TEACHERS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Criminal Investigation Department (CID), which is probing the teachers' recruitment scam, arrested 38 teachers from different parts of the state on Wednesday. Earlier, the CID sleuths had arrested 22 persons, including teachers and staff of the education department, and with Wednesday's arrests, the total number of arrests in the case has gone up to 60.

CID officials said the arrests were made based on a report submitted by the Department of Public Instruction in the ongoing probe into the case. Among the arrested teachers, 24 worked in Kolar, five in Bengaluru South, three in Chikkaballapura and five in Chitradurga district.

"CID teams including 18 DySPs and 14 police inspectors raided 51 places in Kolar, Chikkaballapura, Bengaluru and Chitradurga districts on Wednesday and made the arrests," a CID official said.

The case is related to alleged irregularities in the recruitment of teachers that took place in 2012-13 and 2014-15. Two cases were registered in this regard — one in Vidhana Soudha police station in August and the other in Halasur Gate police station in September. The state government had transferred the case to the CID for further probe. Teachers were allegedly recruited despite not being eligible and some of the selected teachers had not even appeared for the exams.

A thorough probe was initiated into the scam by the ruling BJP government. As the scam took place during former chief minister Siddaramaiah's government, the BJP government is likely to attack the Congress party, which is running campaigns such as 'PayCM' and '40% commission' against Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and his government.

Nirbhaya rerun? Delhi woman gangraped and dumped on road

UJWAL JALALI @ New Delhi

IN a ghastly incident reminiscent of the 2012 Nirbhaya case, a 38-year-old woman was allegedly abducted and gangraped for two days by five men in Ghaziabad near Delhi before being thrown on the road wrapped in a jute bag with her hands and legs tied, and an iron rod inserted in private parts.

The woman has been admitted in a hospital and her condition is stable, officials said. Hospital authorities said there were a few bruises on the victm's private parts but no internal injury was found.

Ghaziabad SP Nipun Agarwal said police received information in the wee hours on Tuesday about an injured woman lying unconscious on the Ashram road. He added that the woman, a mother of three and a resident of Nand Nagri in Delhi, had come to Ghaziabad to celebrate her brother's birthday. "All the accused are known to the victim and the incident might be in connection with a property dispute case pending in court," he said.

Leave war-torn Ukraine, Indians told

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

WORRIED over the sudden escalation of war in Ukraine, the Indian Embassy in Kyiv on Wednesday issued an advisory to Indian citizens to leave the country at the earliest by any available means.

"In view of the deteriorating security situation and recent escalation of hostilities across Ukraine, Indian nationals are advised against travelling to Ukraine. Indian citizens and students are advised to leave at the earliest," the Indian mission's advisory read.

It came hours after Russian President Vladimir Putin declared martial law in four regions of Ukraine that Moscow had annexed and gave all regional governors in Russia emergency powers that opened the door for sweeping new curbs across the country.

People sit in a Kyiv subway, using it as a bomb shelter, on Wednesday | AP

Quite a few final year medical students had returned to Ukraine to complete their course but there is no clarity on their numbers. "There is no information on the exact number of Indians present in Ukraine. It's too early to say whether the embassy in Kyiv will close down or shift to another location," sources said.

The Indian Embassy at Kyiv had earlier shut and relocated — first to Lviv and then to Warsaw — when there was an escalation of hostilities and the evacuation process began.

This is the second advisory since the past nine days. On October 10, the Indian Embassy in Kyiv had advised all Indians to avoid non essential travel.

"In view of the current escalation of hostilities in Ukraine, Indian nationals are advised to avoid all non-essential travel to and within Ukraine. They must strictly follow the safety and security guidelines issued by the Ukrainian government and local authorities," it had stated.

Indian nationals had also been requested to keep the embassy informed about their whereabouts in Ukraine to enable officials to reach out to them if and when required. P14

K'taka to get National Medical Oxygen Grid

Bengaluru: To prevent a repeat of incidents like oxygen tragedy in a Chamarajanagar hospital in 2021, Karnataka will soon get the country's first National Medical Oxygen Grid. The blueprint for the grid, a joint effort by the state government and One Healthcare, was released on Wednesday. According to health officials, the grid will ensure last-mile connectivity from oxygen units so that no hospital is left without sufficient stock. P7

Pak ex-cricketer's daughter treated in B'luru

Bengaluru: A two-year-old girl from Karachi, Pakistan, was treated for a rare, potentially fatal condition called Mucopolysaccharidosis type I (MPS-I) at Narayana Health City in Bengaluru. The little girl, Amyra, happens to be the daughter of former Pakistan cricketer Sikander Bakht, most remembered for routing the India side under Sunil Gavaskar in the 1979 Delhi Test. In fact, it was Sikander who donated his bone marrow to save his little daughter through bone marrow transplant (BMT). P6

Residents at war as ministers' quarters release waste water

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A major tussle is brewing between ministers staying at the prestigious Seven Ministers' Quarters and residents of Palace Cross Road. Though these quarters are upscale mansions, allotted only to top ministers, they do not have a sewage treatment plant (STP) or a rain harvesting system. Quite irksomely for the residents of Palace Cross Road behind the quarters, 'waste water' from the ministers' residences is released onto their road.

Heavy rain in Bengaluru over the last few days that has flooded parts of the quarters has only worsened the problem.

The residents on the road said that they have been complaining over the years about the continuous flow of waste water from the ministers' quarters. It has led to the growth of moss on the road, making it extremely slippery and a nightmare to walk on, especially in patches where the streetlights are inadequate, they added. While some residents complained to the BBMP and no corrective action was taken, while others blocked the outlet from where the water was flowing onto the road.

The residents said that on Wednesday, BBMP and PWD engineers visited the quarters and they were heard saying that they would remove the blocked outlet and let the waste water run on the road again. The residents pointed out that a maternity hospital is situated nearby and the waste water could cause infections to patients. As the PWD is getting ready to break open the outlet, the residents are preparing for a showdown on Thursday.

The PWD jurisdictional engineer confirmed that the BBMP team visited the spot. P8

All must wear seat belts or pay ₹1k fine

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ALL passengers travelling in four-wheelers have to compulsorily wear seat belts or pay a fine of ₹1,000. The rule appplies to SUVs, MUVs, hatchbacks and sedans which are classified as M1.

A memo in this regard was issued by the office of DG & IGP Praveen Sood to police heads of all districts on Tuesday, asking them to strictly enforce the new rule. The memo refers to a letter written by the Ministry of Road Transport & Highways (MoRTH) to all states in September, asking for strict implementation of the law.

The letter by MoRTH states that seat belts are safety-critical items and are essential in ensuring the safety of the occupants in vehicles. As per Rule, 125(1) (a) of the Central Motor Vehicle Rules, 1989, "M1 category motor vehicles used for carriage of passengers, comprising not more than eight seats in addition to the driver seat, shall be equipped with a seat belt for a person occupying the front-facing rear seat. Therefore, all passengers of M1 category vehicles having front-facing seats should wear seat belts."

B R Ravikanthe Gowda, Joint Commissioner of Police (Traffic), Bengaluru city, said the traffic police in the city have already started enforcing the law.

Kharge is a born fighter against injustice: Teacher

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Kalaburagi

"IT is Mallikarjun Kharge's born habit to fight against injustice", said his teacher who taught him at Nutana Vidyalaya Shethe Guruji, in a book 'Karmayogi' by B. Devendrappa. Shethe Guruji recalls that when Kharge was in Class 9 in Nutana Vidyalaya, a student was made to sit near the dais which drove Kharge to take up the matter with the school principal.

Kharge, (80), was born to poor labourers at Waravatti village of Bhalki taluk (Bidar district) on July 21, 1942. His father Mapanna Kharge shifted his house from Waravatti to Kalaburagi and struggled hard to provide education to his son by working as a labourer in MSK Mill.

Having started his political career from Kalaburagi district in 1969, it has taken half a century for Mallikarjun Kharge to ascend to the top post of the Grand Old Party.

Former MP Iqbal Ahmed Saradagi, who is Kharge's friend of 50 years and was also his classmate at college, said one outstanding quality of Kharge is that he has not made any false promises to anybody. He also said Kharge has religiously shouldered responsibilities entrusted by the party.

It was in 1969 when Kharge made his debut in politics when he joined the Indian National Congress and became the Kalaburagi unit president of the party. CONTINUED ON: P8

Heavy rain floods underpasses, roads

A relentless spell of rain through Wednesday evening left Bengaluru's underpasses, roads and market complexes inundated. The continuous rain, lightning and thundershowers across the city, from 8:30pm to 10:30pm, flooded Shivananda Circle and Railway underpass, CBI Road underpass, RT Nagar, Shantinagar bus stop, Wilson Garden, Russell Market, Doddanekkundi and surrounding areas. The rain slowed down traffic, resulting in snarls in Majestic, Malleswaram and surroundings. ENS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER breaking the decade-long record for the highest total annual rainfall, Bengaluru city has now set a new record.

According to the India Meteorological Department (IMD) data, the city till October 17, 2022 recorded 171 cm of rainfall and on October 18 (Tuesday) a new record of 174 cm rainfall was set. IMD officials said this is the highest rainfall in a decade. In 1901, the city had recorded a maximum annual total rainfall of 94 cm, against the normal of 98 cm.

The increased rainfall has also set off the alarm bells. Weathermen predict more disasters in the coming days as the rain will only intensify. The IMD has also issued a yellow alert, warning of heavy rainfall over most parts of south-interior Karnataka, including Bengaluru, the next two days. They have also forecast rainfall over most parts of Karnataka for the next five days.

Prof J Srinivasan, distinguished scientist, Divecha Centre for Climate Change, Indian Institute of Science (IISc), said the fluctuation in rainfall is not new and across India, it is at a scale of 30-50 per cent. He said human interference, rise in the carbon dioxide level in the atmosphere and increase in temperature are leading to increased rainfall. The global mean rainfall has also gone up as the water vapour content in the atmosphere has increased by 7 per cent globally. Whenever there is a rise in the water vapour content in the atmosphere, rainfall will increase and it will not stop, he added.

Experts also pointed out that this is the third consecutive El Nino year. While the daily and hourly rainfall would vary depending on the area, the annual rainfall will rise. A senior IMD official said it is warm both during the day and night, instead of getting cooler. This is a sign of more rain ahead.

"Repeated flooding of Bengaluru-Mysuru expressway shows poor planning. Farmers and local administration pumped underground water and stored it in tanks as they had not anticipated heavy rain. In Bengaluru, water pumped downstream during flooding being stopped is also poor planning. In Japan, pumped water is stored in underground reservoirs for dry days. Such far-fetched planning is needed as the rainfall will only increase," an expert said.

Flooding: Lack of coordination between agencies blamed

MANY residents and trade body members have blamed the lack of coordination between different civic bodies for the flooding in Sultanpet, Mamulpet, BVK Iyengar Road and Avenue Road in Central Business District (CBD). The BBMP, Bescom, BWSSB and the police department have particularly been at the receiving end for their failure in addressing the issue.

A resident, who did not wish to be named, said the areas which fall between three assembly segments like Chikpete, Chamarajpete and Gandhinagar also lack political will and as a result officials duck their demands and questions on basic infrastructure and problems which occur during rain.

Going a little further, Vimal K, one of the directors of Federation of Karnataka Chamber of Commerce said, "If it rains for one hour, it leads to flooding in most areas in the old CBD area. The hawkers here dump waste and plastic and as a result the drains get choked. The police should act and evict the hawkers".

He added, "The route from City Market to Avenue Road normally takes three minutes, but due to the increasing number of hawkers and encroachment, it now takes more than 30 minutes to cross this stretch. The police has to do its duty. There is no direct contact with MLAs here. We expect to see better coordination between all civic agencies."

Revanna, Assistant Executive Engineer, Cottonpet Sub-Division, told The New Indian Express that BWSSB pipes, chambers and also storm water drains get choked due to dumping of plastic and other waste. Items like plantain stems used during festivals are also dumped and when it rains, the areas get flooded. The engineer said that the roads also get blocked due to lorries and trucks parked along the stretch between BVK Iyengar Road and Akkipete. "Local MLA Dinesh Gundu Rao has initiated development works worth Rs 6.5 crore which include laying concrete roads, fixing drains and footpaths and once this is done, the situation will hopefully improve," said Revanna.

BBMP Commissioner goes on South Zone rounds

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

BBMP Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Wednesday inspected South Zone on foot and covered areas like Chikpete and Basavagudi. He instructed officials to fix potholes, prune trees, clear hanging OFC cables and also penalise owners of stray cattle.

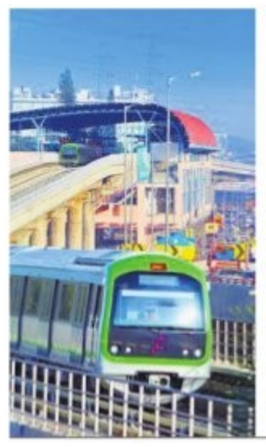
Expressing disappointment over problems faced by pedestrians due to encroachment of footpaths, the commissioner gave a standing instruction to officials to clear the encroachments and penalise the encroachers.

At Minerva Circle, he asked the officials to repair damaged curb stone on the footpaths immediately. The superintendent of the electricity department was asked to instruct the engineers to cut down branches of trees on the side of roads and give a report on the repair of streetlights.

As two-wheelers were parked on the footpath, he asked the officials to inform the traffic department and ensure the vehicle owners are fined. During inspection of Jain Temple Road, the commissioner also took note of building construction materials placed on the footpath and directed the officials to seize them. During the inspection, sheds were cleared on the spot by excavators following the commissioner's order.

Girinath also inspected the National College Circle, KR Road, Tagore Circle, Nettakallappa Circle, Armugam Circle and South End circle.

As the smart parking project is being implemented in eight zones of the city, he instructed the Principal Engineer and Chief Engineer of Road Infrastructure Department Prahlad to quickly float the tender and implement the project at the earliest.



ORR forum meets BMRCL MD

Bengaluru: Challenges and solutions in connection with the Bangalore Metro Rail work going on at the Outer Ring Road for its Phase 2A line were discussed during a meeting convened by the Outer Ring Road Companies Association with BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parwez, BBMP Zonal Commissioner Trilok Chandra and DCP (Traffic East) Kala Krishnaswamy at the Goldman Sachs campus. The condition of the main roads, service roads and arterial roads apart from traffic issues in the area figured during the discussions, according to a participant. ENS

Metro goes from strength to strength as it enters 12th year

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

FROM an average of 20,000 commuters per day when Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd launched operations on October 20, 2011, between MG Road and Baiyappanahalli, Metro trains today clock an average of 5 lakh commuters daily. It has begun making operational profits since July this year and this financial year is set to end on profits.

Speaking on the way ahead, BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parwez told TNIE the focus will be on generating non-fare revenue. "This is to ensure Metro's sustainability and the quality of the service we provide. Parking, kiosks, shops and telecom towers will become revenue streams for us. The next five years are extra important as assets have become old during the decade and they need to be properly maintained," he said.

In a message to the public to mark completion of 11 years of operation, Parwez goaded more people to use Metro trains saying, "Metro is safe, secure and environment friendly. It's clean and very well-maintained. More people need to leave behind their two- and 4-wheelers and opt for Metro travel."

To make travel convenient for the public, amenities are in the offing from BMRCL. From December 1, pre-paid autos will be launched at four Metro stations of Baiyappanahalli, Banashankari, Nagasandra and Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Metro stations. QR-based tickets will also be launched shortly, he said. These tickets can be obtained on the phone through Metro's mobile app and can be displayed against the code scanner at the fare gates to gain entry.

A S Shankar, Executive Director, Operations and Maintenance, told TNIE, "We are averaging 5 lakh a day presently. With the new lines set to be launched, we hope to touch a daily average ridership of 8 lakh within two years."

Chief Public Relations Officer B L Yashwanth Chavan said BMRCL was looking at completing 40 km of Metro network in 2023. "We plan to launch Kengeri to Challaghatta stretch, Nagasandra to BIEC, Baiyappanahalli to Whitefield and R V Road to Bommasandra Lines next year," he said. A total of 317 km of Metro network is proposed under the Comprehensive Mobility Plan by 2031, he added.

PRE-COVID HIGHEST FIGURE BEATEN

On October 15, 2022, BMRCL clocked 6,10,693 riders beating its pre-Covid record of 6,01,163 recorded on October 25, 2019, said CPRO Chavan. A historic high of 8,25,190 riders was recorded on August 15 this year. This was was a special case due to the Congress rally in the city and the Independence Day Flower Show at Lal Bagh.

PAK EX-CRICKETER'S DAUGHTER TREATED FOR RARE CONDITION IN B'LURU

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THAT disease and treatment transcend international borders and ongoing or past rivalries was showcased here once again with a two-year-old girl from Karachi, Pakistan, being treated for a rare, potentially fatal condition called Mucopolysaccharidosis type I (MPS-I).

The little girl, Amyra, happens to be the daughter of former Pakistan cricketer Sikander Bakht — who later turned commentator — most remembered for routing the India side under Sunil Gavaskar in the 1979 Delhi Test.

In fact, it was Sikander who donated his bone marrow to save his little daughter through bone marrow transplant (BMT). The treatment and procedures were carried out at Narayana Health City in Bengaluru, and the girl is on her way to recovery, four months post the procedures.

Sadaf Khan, wife of former Pakistan cricketer Sikander Bakht, with their daughter Amyra Sikandar Khan

MPS-I is a rare disease which causes lack of lysosomal alpha-L-iduronidase enzymes which break down long chains of sugar molecules, called glycosaminoglycans. This results in the sugar molecules building up in different organs of the body, including the brain and the eyes to cause various fatal health problems, including its harmful impacts on the brain and eyes.

Amyra was just 18-months-old when the condition was diagnosed, said her mother Sadaf Khan. The toddler initially had only a recurring ear infection and nothing else. It was only through consultations with various doctors to find out the reason for her persisting problem, that she was detected with bone density issue, which finally led to diagnosing it as MPS-1.

"It came as a shock to us that our daughter was diagnosed with MPS-1. We were not aware of this condition. It took immense research to be able to understand it and find suitable healthcare professionals," Sadaf said, explaining how they landed up at Narayana Health City.

Amyra's family is now happy that her condition could be diagnosed early. Sadaf urged awareness to be created among people on such conditions and make diagnosis and treatment more accessible. Having undergone the experience of her child affected by MPS-1, Sadaf suggested that parents ensure that their children undergo diagnostic treatment at an early stage as it would help increase the life span of the child despite the condition not having a complete cure as yet.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

20th October: Do the planets have a real effect on the earth? If you expect me to say 'yes', then in fact the answer is much more complicated than that. Astronomers who are looking into the matter believe that the overall planetary pattern has an impact on the Sun, and hence on the earth's magnetic field, which in turn affects us. But, apart from that, astrology defies scientific explanation!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A crop of emotional and contrary planetary alignments culminates in one that is optimistic and hopeful of better times to come. The best thing you can do is sit down and talk to a child, or to a younger person who needs your understanding - and can offer you inspiration.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Every astrological pattern requires careful handling and right now you need to give family gatherings and domestic duties just a little more of your valuable attention. And remember that old saying: if a job's worth doing, it's worth doing yourself!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You will be aware that it's important to be more business like, partly because some of your planets are encouraging you to be rather careless and lazy. In fact, to be totally down-to-earth, cash issues will come to dominate. It may even be time for a well-deserved bout of extravagance.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You are known for your soft heart and ability to endure all manner of insults. However, if money or material security is involved, the worm is about to turn, so those who are in your debt had better pay up. Actually, there'll be times when all you need is a vote of thanks - and buckets of appreciation!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You will now be able to judge if a gamble has paid off. If you lost out, don't regard it all as wasted effort, for at least your options have been clarified. You'll have a better idea of what to do next time round. Plus, of course, you will be able to help somebody else out of a tight spot.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It's unclear whether a recent emotional outburst occurred at work or home. It's pretty certain it didn't involve friends, though. In any event, whatever happened in the past, today is a time for principled decisions. Only the very highest standards will do.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Let's get down to brass tacks: this looks like an ideal time to exercise your legendary interior design qualities. If you put your mind to it, you can create a much more pleasing personal environment - and you also have a truly wonderful ability to make practical use of a partner's vague ideas.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There's a clear pattern to the day, with financial pressures coming from one direction, emotional ones from another. You may spend some time dealing with shopping, investments and other little deals, but it's your heart which really keeps you going - and the desire to make someone else happy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The fact is that even if you don't like what other people say it's probably true. Or, at least partly true. So listen carefully and decide what is right and useful for you. Also, deal with emotional issues as soon as you can. Otherwise a partner may get the idea that you don't care about them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You will be ruled by your heart rather than your head. In fact, I would go so far as to say that's a good thing! Just make sure that the emotions you express are full of compassion and care for others. That way you're likely to meet with a much more willing response.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
By the time evening falls, you will be keeping something important to yourself. Regardless of past emotional tangles, confidences must be respected, so don't reveal partners' thoughts and feelings until they give you the go-ahead. And try trusting a colleague's instincts.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may broaden your horizons and put your ambitions in to practice. Don't be afraid to take on more than you can cope with, as once your responsibilities are defined and your affairs settled, you'll be able to drop one or two surplus commitments.

K'taka to get O_2 grid for medical emergencies

Will ensure swift supply to all cities; second pilot to come up in UP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

LEARNING a lesson from the past and to ensure the state is prepared for any further medical emergencies, Karnataka will soon have the first ever National Medical Oxygen Grid (NMOG).

Releasing the blueprint for the upcoming NMOG, a combined effort of the state government and One Health Care, health officials said it was likely to come up in Chikkaballapur. While each hospital and health centre is equipped, post pandemic, to have oxygen cylinders, the grid will ensure that last-mile connectivity from oxygen units is addressed. It will ensure no centre is left without sufficient stock, and supply of medical oxygen to other cities. The blueprint details the groundwork for the design and implementation of the grid. It suggested a four-step approach, from planning exercises to forecast demand, ease of distribution, detailed supply assessment, and lastly, a study about the process with emergency operational plans. Commissioner, Health and Family Welfare Services, Karnataka, D Randeep launched the NMOG and said medical oxygen has never been involved in the core peripherals in healthcare, and the plan is to set up initiatives like the oxygen grid, and improve capacity building of resources.

Karnataka is one of the first two states (second being Uttar Pradesh), where this pilot initiative has been proposed. The shortage of oxygen during the second wave of the pandemic was discussed at the session.

Dr Parvez Memon, National Programme Manager, Jhpiego, explained that it was important to build competency for doctors, biomedical engineers and other professionals. A larger focus is required in understand the same and ensure last-mile delivery and training at the grassroot level.

IoT mobile O_2 station launched

India's first IoT-enabled mobile medical oxygen plant with a cylinder filling station at The Art of Living International Centre, was also launched as a part of the National Medical Oxygen Grid Project by Sri Sri Ravishankar on Wednesday.

WOMAN OVERPOWERS ATTACKER, ESCAPES RAPE BID IN CHURCH

ENS @Bengaluru

A 40-year-old man who tried to rape a woman inside a church near St Philomena's Hospital, was arrested by Ashoknagar police. Police have found that the accused is a habitual offender who targeted women, and took him into custody for further interrogation.

The incident took place on September 10, when the woman, who is the wife of the caretaker of the church, went in to switch off the lights and lock the doors. The accused threatened her at knife-point and made her sit in a chair. He then tried to rape her. After managing to overpower him, she came out screaming. On hearing her, her husband rushed towards the church and saw the accused running outside.

When the husband tried to catch him, the accused ran into a Ganesha idol procession and managed to escape. The husband knew the accused as he would often meet .

The accused was identified as William Prakash. He had attempted to rape the 29-year-old victim on September 10, between 9.45pm and 10.30pm. The woman's family stays near the church. She filed the complaint almost six days after the incident, claiming that she was scared of the consequences. The police had a tough time catching the accused as he had no fixed place to stay and kept wandering from one place to the other. "The accused held the victim at knife-point for almost 45 minutes. He had pointed the knife to her throat. As she pushed and tried to run, he attacked her with the knife. Luckily, she was not harmed. The accused followed her but escaped after seeing her husband. A Ganesha idol procession was passing by the church and the accused ran to join it," said an officer who is part of investigations.

A case of assault or use of criminal force to woman with intent to disrobe along with other sections of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) has been registered against the accused. Further investigations are on.

Narayana Health completes 2K bone marrow transplants

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

NARAYANA Health became one of the leading healthcare providers in India to complete 2,000 bone marrow transplants (BMT), a critical procedure to treat certain forms of cancer.

BMT is an effective treatment for conditions like acute and chronic myeloid, Leukemia, Lymphoma (lymphatic cancer), Myeloma (cancer of plasma cells) etc. Explaining the potential of BMT transplants, Dr Sharat Damodar, clinical director and head of Haematology, BMT, Narayana Health City, Bengaluru, said BMT had the potential to cure over 20 types of diseases and success rate was 70-80 per cent, awareness about this treatment is poor and a holistic approach is required to educate both patients and physicians.

Dr Sunil Bhat, vice-chairman, oncology services, director and clinical lead, paediatric haematology, oncology, blood and BMT transplantation said, "In 1.4 billion population, only 5 lakh registered donors are available, with a rising requirement for BMT transplants."

Narayana Health also introduced CAR-T (Chimeric Antigen Receptor Therapy) treatment to fight cancer at Narayana Health City, Bengaluru. They plan to extend treatment to other centres and have become India's first hospital-based CAR-T cell generating laboratory to initiate phase II trials.

Youth held for trying to kill painter

ENS @Bengaluru

A 22-year-old employee of an online food app has been arrested by the Viveknagar police for attempting to kill a 30-year-old man. Both the accused and the victim were under the influence of alcohol and the latter was the first to start the fight.

The accused has been identified as Daniel Dominic, a resident of Vannarapet. He had attacked Yogesh, 28, a resident of Ejipura at 3 am on Monday. Yogesh, a painter, along with his friend was drinking while sitting on the pavement. Dominic was partying in a nearby building.

The victim stopped the accused who was returning home asking for water. The accused after giving a water bottle, tried to go. The victim, by not letting the accused go, tried to attack him with a lethal weapon after getting to know that he was from a different area. In self-defence, the accused pulled the knife and attacked the victim.

HC: Tampered e-seals can affect national security

ENS @Bengaluru

OBSERVING that containers passing muster without getting scanned at Customs, can result in a catastrophic effect on the security of the nation, which should not be permitted to be compromised "come what may", the Karnataka High Court said, dismissing the petition filed by city based M/s ib Track Solutions Private Limited and its director Sudhendra Dhakanikote, questioning the crime registered by the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI).

IN THE HC

Justice M Nagaprasanna said, "I don't find any merit to interfere or interdict the investigation against the petitioners, as any interference would amount to putting a premium on the acts of the petitioners, for having compromised the security of the nation."

It was alleged that the e-seals supplied by the petitioner-company were passing Customs clearance even when they were not in a locked condition, and were tampered with regularly. It was also alleged that the petitioner had switched off tampering alerts that led the containers with tampered seals also to get exported, which had serious ramifications for the economy and security of the nation. Since March 2018, it was found that approximately 832 seals of the company were faulty, and the tamper alarm had been switched off. Therefore, DRI registered a crime against the petitioners under Information Technology Act and IPC, before Indiranagar Police Station in July 2019.

The court said what passes through the container, if not detected, can pose a serious threat to the nation. The answers given by the second petitioner, Sudhendra, would shock the conscience of the court, at what he says "they did in their business interest". Counsel for the Centre said revenue loss is among the possibilities arising out of tampering of seals, but the major concern is risk to security.

KHARGE'S ELEVATION A BIG BOOST FOR CONG IN K'TAKA

RAMU PATIL @ Bengaluru

Veteran Congress leader Mallikarjun Kharge's elevation as the All-India Congress Committee (AICC) president is a big boost for the party ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections in Karnataka.

Although he will focus more on reviving Congress across the country, especially in the Hindi heartland and forging unity among Opposition parties to take on the BJP in 2024 General Elections, the Assembly election in his home state will be a major test of his leadership.

While his humble background will give a sense of confidence to party workers and leaders, his rich experience and deep understanding of Karnataka politics, unblemished image, uncompromising nature and good equations with leaders cutting across regions and communities are likely to boost the Congress' prospects. Kharge is also known for his administrative acumen and loyalty to the party.

As the party president, he will have the final word as for the party affairs in the state are concerned and he can assert his authority to bring together different factions to face elections as one cohesive unit.

His elevation is also seen as perfect social engineering as the party will be hoping to get back the support of Dalit voters who have moved away from Congress in recent years. State Congress president DK Shivakumar is a Vokkaliga leader, Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah enjoys support among the OBCs and former minister MB Patil is the campaign committee chief who can woo Lingayat voters.

Newly elected Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge flashes the victory sign at a press conference in New Delhi on Wednesday | PARVEEN NEGI

The Congress is buoyant after its good performance in the recent Assembly bypolls and Legislative Council elections and the party leaders in the state are making all-out efforts to put the BJP on the backfoot, especially on corruption issues. Former AICC president and Wayanad MP Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra has only further enthused them.

"The yatra has helped slowly generate a pro-Congress wave in Karnataka and Kharge's elevation will help sustain it till the elections," said political analyst MK Bhaskar Rao. It may also revive the demand in Congress to make a Dalit leader a CM. "He is the senior-most Congress leader in the country. His life is a success story and whatever responsibility was given to him, he has discharged it efficiently. Except chief ministership, he has held many responsibilities," said senior Congress leader BL Shankar.

Leader of Opposition in the Council BK Hariprasad said Kharge's experience and stature will have their impact on elections, but everything should not be looked at from the point of elections. "It is a proud moment for all Congressmen in Karnataka," he added.

Kharge enjoys a good rapport with former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda and other non-Congress anti-BJP leaders. As AICC general secretary incharge of Maharashtra, he was able to put together an unlikely coalition to keep BJP away from power.

"Kharge's elevation will bring a paradigm shift in politics," said political analyst Prof Muzaffar Asadi.

On its part, the party has launched an aggressive campaign and its leaders are confident of reconsolidating support among Lingayats and are trying to make the most of the government's decision to increase reservations for the SC/ST communities. The BJP may dismiss the Congress presidential election stating that the focus will continue to be on the Nehru-Gandhi family. In Karnataka, it has to rework its strategy factoring in Kharge's elevation.

I heartily congratulate my friend and colleague of many decades, Mallikarjun Kharge, on being elected @INCIndia President. This is a proud and historic moment for the Congress and also Karnataka. May God give him the strength to take his party to new heights across India

– HD Deve Gowda, Ex-PM

Kharge's long political experience and unswerving loyalty to Congress has helped him occupy the highest post

– HD Kumaraswamy, Ex-CM

His experience, commitment and insights will steer Congress in the right direction. It is a proud moment for all Kannadigas

– Siddaramaiah, CLP leader

I congratulate him for becoming AICC president. But at the same time, I want to tell him that he has become the captain of a sinking ship

– Basavaraj Bommai, CM

...Can Congress give a promise that it will not insult Kharge the way it had to former AICC president Sitaram Kesari?

– State BJP

From students' union to Parliament, a long journey

DURING his college days, Kharge was the general secretary and later became vice-president of the students' union at Government College of Arts and Science where he completed his graduation. He later completed his LLB at Shankar Lal Lahoti Law College and became the legal advisor for MSK Mill Employees Association in 1969, the same year, when he joined the Congress.

In 1972, he successfully contested from Gurumitkal (Reserve) Assembly Constituency and became MLA for the first time. From 1972 to 2005, Kharge consecutively won from Gurmitkal constituency eight times in a row. After Gurmitkal was made a general constituency in 2008 and Chittapur constituency became a Reserve constituency, Kharge contested from Chittapur in 2008 Assembly elections and won, which was his ninth victory in Assembly elections.

Following directions from the party high command, Kharge resigned as MLA from Chittapur and contested the Lok Sabha polls in 2009 and in 2014 from Kalaburagi (Gulbarga) constituency and won. He, however, lost in 2019. Congress party then nominated him for the Rajya Sabha polls held on June 12, 2020 in which he was elected unanimously.

Kharge has held several party posts which include Kalaburagi unit president of Congress (1969), General Secretary of KPCC (1985-87), Vice-president of KPCC (1988-89) and president of KPCC in 2005. Kharge served as minister in the cabinets of CMs Devaraj Urs, Gundu Rao, SM Krishna and Dharam Singh, and held several portfolios including Home, Irrigation, Rural Development, Primary and Secondary Education and Cooperation.

When Manmohan Singh was the PM, Kharge handled the Labour and Railway ministries. After winning in the Lok Sabha elections in 2014, Kharge was made Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha. After getting elected to Rajya Sabha in 2020, he was made the Leader of Opposition in the Upper House.

Kharge will have a say in ticket distribution: Shivakumar

BENGALURU: KPCC president DK Shivakumar, who led the celebrations to mark Mallikarjun Kharge's elevation as AICC president at the party office here on Wednesday, said Kharge will have a say in the distribution of party tickets for the 2023 Assembly polls. "As the leader of opposition in the Rajya Sabha, he was a member of the party's central election committee. He was part of decision making then, and he will be now," he said. Kharge has the challenge of bringing the party back to power not only in Karnataka but across the country as his elevation will strengthen the party across states, he added. "I would not restrict Kharge to Karnataka, as he is a national leader. But his elevation will give a boost to the party in the state," he said. He thanked Sonia Gandhi for allowing elections to be held democratically and also congratulated Kharge's opponent Shashi Tharoor for giving a healthy fight that ensured the democratic values are protected. ENS

K'buragi tur dal to be branded 'Bheema Pulses'

ENS @ Bengaluru

AGRICULTURE Minister BC Patil on Wednesday said the government will release 'Bheema Pulses' brand tur dal grown in Kalaburagi, with Geographical Index (GI) tag, to help farmers get a better price.

"The farmers of the region will be registered through farm produce companies, and the pigeon pea will be procured directly from them. The amount will be credited to their accounts," he told reporters.

The government has allocated Rs 200 crore to the Karnataka Pulses Development Board, Kalaburagi, to develop 'Bheema Pulses' brand. "The dal, which has high protein, 21gm for every 100gm, 170mg fat, 130mg calcium, will be released in three varieties for consumers at reasonable prices," he added.

BBMP to build open channel

BBMP Engineer-in-Chief BS Prahlad, who too confirmed the engineers' visit, said they are planning to construct an open channel from the quarters to a nearby drain and water will not be discharged on the road like earlier.

But the residents are not convinced. "How will it be if someone discharges waste water onto your road and builds a drain," asked Dr Parvati Javali, a resident.

Another resident Shruti said, "The Seven Ministers' Quarters should have their own STP and rain water harvesting systems, and not dirty the locality of others." "How can they allow filthy water from their mansions to submerge our homes," asked an angry Raheja.

POLITICAL THEATRE

BJP trying to disturb peace through 'no-halal meat' campaign, says Congress spokesman

Shivamogga: KPCC spokesman Belur Gopalakrishna on Wednesday alleged that when there is a moment of peace in the state, some Hindu groups supported by BJP have started a campaign to boycott halal meat at Muslim shops to create unrest among communities. There is a hidden, political agenda behind the campaign, he said. BJP leaders have not been able to stomach society returning to normal after bouts of communal riots in recent times. "They want to stoke unrest and provoke riots through such campaigns. People can eat what they like. Who has given BJP the right to order what people should eat," he asked.

We've picked 126 candidates, list out on Nov 1, says HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

WITH the Assembly elections nearing, JDS which is going on its own Pancharatna Yatre from November 1 after tours by Congress and BJP, launched a two-day state-level conference in Mysuru on Wednesday.

Releasing a CD and website on the yatre, JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy said that with the yatre, the party will create awareness on the pro-people programmes of JDS. "We have plans to provide free education, healthcare and housing to the people and also evolve programmes for farmers and women. The six-month yatre will pass through all the districts," he said.

On selecting candidates, he said JDS has shortlisted 126 probables out of the needed 224, and the list will be announced on November 1. "JDS will contest from all the 224 seats aiming to win at least 126 seats," he said.

Taking a dig at CM Bommai for his remarks on providing evidence of the recruitment scams during the Siddaramaiah government to Rahu, he said Bommai should produce evidence before the state cabinet and order a probe.

Slamming Bommai for the poor state of roads in Bengaluru that have claimed the lives of several people, he said, "Even after the court took the state government to task on the state of roads, the government is not taking any steps," he said.

On the Bharat Jodo Yatra by Rahul Gandhi, he said, "The yatra is limited to just the jodo (duo) of Siddaramaiah and DK Shivakumar."

Asked about Mandya MP Sumalatha asking Mandya JDS leaders, who had alleged she had taken a commission in the construction of Bengaluru-Mysuru highway, to go before the Melkote temple and repeat the allegation, Kumaraswamy said he does not know who she is.

Bommai targets Congress over encroachment of wakf properties

CM: Rahul Gandhi will never become PM

Yadgir: CM Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday took a dig at Rahul Gandhi saying the latter "does not know anything about the country nor knows the languages spoken in different states" and hence will never become the PM. Bommai was speaking at the UKP camp in Hunasagi town in Yadgir district. On the 'PayCM' campaign by Congress workers, Bommai said, "Let them agitate. They do not have much work to do. We are responsible for developing the state."

Congress revs up #SayCM campaign

BENGALURU: After the 'PayCM' campaign, Congress leaders are trying to put the government on the mat with the 'SayCM' campaign. Opposition leader Siddaramaiah lashed out at CM Bommai, tweeting, "@BSBommai has stated that he will send the details of corruption of @INCKarnataka leaders to Shri @RahulGandhi. @BSBommai should not forget that @narendramodi is the PM now, and not Shri Rahul Gandhi. #SayCM." The Congress is using the hashtag 'SayCM' to allege that the BJP does not keep its assurances.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai addresses the BJP's Jana Sankalpa Yatra at Kamalapura in Kalaburagi district on Wednesday

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Kalaburagi

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday hit out at the Congress over the issue of alleged encroachment of wakf properties in Karnataka.

Addressing the BJP's Jana Sankalpa Yatra at Mahagaon in Kamalapur taluk, Bommai said that the State Government will probe the matter on the basis of the Anwar Manippady report on the misuse of wakf properties. He questioned the Minority community members how they could believe a party (Congress) which played a role in encroachment of wakf properties.

"The Anwar Manippady committee, which studied the encroachment of wakf properties in Karnataka, has submitted its report to the government. We will probe the matter on the basis of this report. The BJP government is not against the Minority community," Bommai said.

On his government increasing SC/ST reservation, Bommai said the Congress that claims to champion the cause of Dalits failed to increase the quota during its rule.

"Siddaramaiah calls himself the leader of AHINDAs... he has to introspect as to whether the AHINDA voters are still with him as hindulida (Backward) and Dalit voters have deserted him. Minorities too are also losing faith in the Congress," the CM added.

"We have launched the Sankalpa Yatra now. After the 2023 Assembly elections, we will launch Vijaya Yatra (Victory rally)," he said.

Meanwhile, Bommai reiterated that his government is committed to the welfare of the Kalyana-Karnataka region. "Our government has sanctioned Rs3,000 crore to Kalyana Karnataka Region Development Board. An additional Rs 5,000 crore will be sanctioned next year. The government has already announced that it will construct 2,000 classrooms in the region. Sanction has also been given for procuring 316 buses to KKRTC.

Bommai also announced that the government will establish a textile park in Raichur and Kalaburagi and a pharmaceutical park in Yadgir district

As CM Bommai was addressing the gathering, it started to rain heavily causing trouble to those who had gathered. The CM thanked the people for listening to his speech amid the rain and bless the BJP in the next Assembly polls.

FOUR UNIQUE HERO STONES DISCOVERED IN HORANADU

B THIPPERUDRAPPA @ Chikkamagaluru

THREE hero stones and one Mahasati stone carved in granite have been discovered in Horanadu on the left bank of the Bhadra river. History and archaeological researcher HR Panduranga recently discovered these memorials which shed light on the history of Horanadu in the erstwhile Kalasa province. The white granite hero stone, erected near Malenadu Malige of Horanadu Doddamane Rajendra Heggade, is unique as it depicts the fight with cattle thieves. It has five compartments separated by strips.

The bottom compartment has carvings of cattle and cattle thieves and the space above it has a hero going to the battlefield on a palanquin and two warriors brandishing swords. The plaque above depicts angels taking the warrior, killed while fighting cattle thieves, to heaven. Another plaque above has a carving depicting a dead hero and his wife with angels. Rare carvings of Gaja Lakshmi and the sun and moon are on the top portion of the stone.

Researcher HR Panduranga with the hero stone in Hoartnadu | EXPRESS

Panduranga says the hero stone in Jain tradition, depicting the Horanadu warrior, may belong to Kalasa Santara rulers of the 13th century.

Malalagadde hero stone

This broken stone found in the frontyard of HD Jwalanayya's house has a carving of horse warriors and foot soldiers with swords. Researchers opine that the stone inscription dates back to the period of Bhairavarasas.

Attigeri hero stone

This white hero stone found in the coffee estate of Nagendra Puttaiah has four plaques displaying soldiers going to war, a war scene, and a dead soldier being taken to heaven by angels.

Panduranga says this stone has a carving depicting the heroic death of a Horanadu warrior of the Bhairavarasa dynasty. A 'Masti Kallu' has been found in the paddy field of Basarimakki Devarajaiah. This has reference to the wife of a hero unable to bear the pangs of separation sacrificing herself on the pyre of her husband. This stone highlights the valour of the soldier and his wife's sacrifices.

This stone is worshipped by local farmers as the Goddess of Wind, who helps while winnowing foodgrains during the threshing season.

AP capital row: Rahul bats for Amaravati

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Adoni (Kurnool)

CONGRESS MP Rahul Gandhi, who is leading the Bharat Jodo Yatra which entered Andhra Pradesh on Tuesday, said on Wednesday that the Centre had made commitment to the people of the state during bifurcation, which have to be fulfilled. "I want to discuss about the future. A commitment has been made, which has to be fulfilled," he said.

"Certain fundamental commitments were made by the central government to the people while bifurcation and they should be fulfilled, which included construction of Polavaram project and according special category status," he said.

On inter-state water sharing dispute, and how the Congress would resolve them, Rahul clarified that there is a dispute resolution mechanism in place, and that he is "nobody to comment on it". Asked how the Congress would complete the irrigation projects in the backward region of Rayalaseema, he said, "When we come to power, we will ensure they are done." He claimed that the Yatra has been receiving tremendous response in Andhra. "Our leaders are pleasantly surprised by the enthusiasm and response from the people. It is a good starting point to build Congress in the state," he said.

Replying to a query on the controversy over three capitals, he dismissed the idea, calling it "insensible and ineffective". "We believe that Andhra should have one capital, and that should be Amaravati," he said.

Transfer of wealth

Explaining that jobs in small and medium businesses and a strong agriculture sector make an economy robust, he said that demonetisation and GST have destroyed it. India's ability to create jobs is crippled as lakhs of small businessmen have shuttered, and at the same time, there has been a massive transfer of wealth from the poor and middle class into the hands of some rich business owners.

MODI UNVEILS HTT-40, HAL'S INDIGENOUS TRAINER AIRCRAFT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi unveiled HTT-40, the indigenous trainer aircraft designed and developed by Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) at the India Pavilion during DefExpo-2020 in Gandhinagar, on Wednesday.

The Basic Trainer Aircraft would be used for basic flight training, aerobatics, instrument flying and close formation flights, whereas its secondary roles would include navigation and night flying. HTT-40 has cutting-edge technology designed to meet primary training requirements of the Indian defence services. Built around a meticulously-tested, turbo-prop engine, it is equipped with the latest avionics, an air-conditioned cabin and ejection seats.

HTT-40 boasts of unique features like running change-over of pilots, hot-refuelling and short turnaround time.

HAL receives DcPP certificate

HAL also received a Development-cum-Production Partner (DcPP)/Production Agency (PA) certificate for ABHYAS - High Speed Expendable Aerial Target (HEAT) System from DRDO at a programme held on the sidelines of DefExpo-2022.

The Aircraft Division of HAL is the first DcPP/PA identified organisation under ADE-DRDO's new scheme for the procurement of a complex system. HAL had formally handed over the first batch of two units of High-Speed Expendable Aerial Target (HEAT) System ABHYAS, an indigenous target aircraft, to Aeronautical Development Establishment (ADE) recently.

HAL CMD CB Anantakrishnan received the certificate from DRDO Chairman and secretary of the Department of Defence R&D Dr Samir V Kamat.

VC inaction: Kerala Guv ousts 15 senate members

SOVI VIDYADHARAN @T'Puram

IN an extraordinary move, the Raj Bhavan directly issued a notification on Wednesday removing 15 members of the Kerala University senate, including four heads of departments. The action came after Vice-Chancellor V P Mahadevan Pillai chose not to implement Governor Arif Mohammed Khan's October 15 order withdrawing his senate nominees for not attending a meeting convened on his directions on October 11.

As per procedure, the VC is supposed to direct the registrar to issue the notification of the senate members' removal. However, Pillai on Tuesday had written back to the governor instead, pointing out 'illegalities' in the order. The Raj Bhavan had then shot off a terse reply asking him to comply with Khan's directive.

University sources said Pillai went on leave without handing over charge to anyone. This prompted the Raj Bhavan to issue the notification on its own. It is also learnt to have taken serious note of the VC's inaction.

"The VC was asked to implement the order and send a compliance report. He chose not to do so citing technicalities," said a source.

3-year RI for former asst manager of KSFIC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Special Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) Court at Bengaluru convicted former assistant manager, Karnataka State Forest Industries Corporation Ltd (KSFIC) BC Shanthakumar and sentenced him to three years rigorous imprisonment in a money laundering case.

Giving details of the case, the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) in an official release on Wednesday stated that an FIR was registered on December 1, 2009, by Karnataka Lokayukta police, Hassan, under Sections 13(1)(e) r/w 13(2) of Prevention of Corruption (PC) Act, against Shanthakumar for accumulating disproportionate assets to the tune of Rs 84,42,067, which was found to be 122.79 per cent disproportionate to his known sources of income.

"Based on the FIR, an ECIR dated March 31, 2010 was recorded by the ED, Bengaluru zonal office, against Shanthakumar under PMLA. The investigation revealed that he was involved in the processes connected with proceeds of crime and a Provisional Attachment Order dated March 27, 2014 was issued against him thereby attaching his properties worth Rs 60,41,243.

SWEET VICTORY

Congress cadres and leaders in Tamil Nadu gathered at the party's state unit headquarters, burst crackers, and distributed sweets among passersby on Wednesday to celebrate the victory of former Union minister Mallikarjun Kharge in the party's presidential poll. TN CM MK Stalin and other leaders congratulated Kharge. Stalin said, "Hearty congratulations to Thiru Mallikarjun Kharge on being elected as the new president of Congress. He has taken charge of the Grand Old Party at a critical juncture as we are all fighting to protect the secular and inclusive ethos of India. I wish him success in his new role" | MARTIN LOUIS

New sub-lineage of Omicron in Odisha, first in country

Bhubaneswar: A second generation sub-lineage of Omicron - BM.4.1.1 has emerged in Odisha, first in the country, amid growing concerns over more transmissible XBB and BM.1.1 sub-variants of SARS-CoV2 detected in five states. Sources at INSACOG said that 18 new BM.4.1.1 cases, part of the 'new class' of Omicron sub-variant have been detected in 149 samples sequenced in the two labs in Odisha over the last one month. At least 32 cases of XBB, 22 cases of BM.1.1, 4 cases of BM.1.1.1, 6 cases of BL.1, 2 cases of BL.4 and 22 cases of BA.2.75.2 have been detected. While XBB variant is claimed to be more infectious, the National Centre for Disease Control is examining clinical significance of the BM.4.1.1 sub-variant. ENS

Give aid to fight leaf spot disease: BSY, team to Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Shivamogga

A delegation of BJP leaders led by former Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa met Union Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar in New Delhi on Wednesday requesting the Centre to depute a team to study the leaf spot disease affecting areca crops in Karnataka. They also demanded a financial package for the affected growers.

Home Minister Araga Jnanedra, MP BY Raghavendra and Sagar MLA Haratalu Halappa were part of the delegation. Yediyurappa said, in his memorandum to the minister, that Karnataka is the largest grower of arecanut in the country and contributes for 68% of the total cultivation area and 80% of the total arecanut production in the country. He said that arecanut is being cultivated in an area of 5.02 lakh hectares in the state and more than five million people are dependent on the crop.

In Shivamogga district, an area of 1.02 lakh hectares is used for the cultivation of arecanut. Arecanut production contributes for over 60% of the economy of the district. Changes in climatic conditions have favoured diseases like leaf spot, fruit rot, Ganoderama wilt etc., and this has caused a considerable loss in the yield. The severity of the disease is due to continuous rainfall, which has washed away soil nutrients.

Farmers and arecanut growers in many districts have been facing economic distress, and a farmer also committed suicide recently.

KHARGE AS CONG CHIEF HAS TO GEAR UP TO MEET BJP CHALLENGE

The election of veteran Dalit leader Mallikarjun Kharge as the first Congress president from outside the Gandhi family in the last twenty-four years may not immediately work wonders for the party itself. Still, it would present multiple challenges to the BJP. The first thing it would do would be to rob Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the BJP of their pet political barb against the Congress that it is a family-controlled party interested solely in preserving and promoting the Nehru-Gandhi dynasty. Second, and more crucially, the election showcases the Congress as a party having more internal democracy, which did not shy away from holding a free and fair election to choose its president.

Despite many allegations of lack of transparency and impropriety, the Congress organisational election has tossed the ball right into the BJP's court. The BJP is yet to hold internal elections. Rahul Gandhi has already thrown down the gauntlet by asking the BJP when it would choose its president through elections. Kharge's Dalit identity is also going to make it difficult for the BJP to go after him as it has been going after the Gandhi family. The new Congress president is sure to impact the forthcoming elections, especially in his home state, Karnataka, which has a large Dalit population of around 20 per cent. The Congress leadership may deny it ad nauseam, but Kharge has been chosen for his caste identity and was backed by the leadership against rival Shashi Tharoor.

The choice of Kharge is a political move by the Congress to counter the BJP's decision to elect a tribal as the President of India. The Congress organisational election has already brought the party back into the limelight. The new president's next moves will continue to generate media interest and give the party the much-needed publicity.

The party will now hold the plenary session, where it will elect the new Congress Working Committee, the highest decision-making body. The organisational elections and Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra have undoubtedly injected life into the moribund organisation. India's grand old party seems to be finally getting its act together after facing its worst electoral drubbing by the BJP.

TDP, JANA SENA TIE UP LEADS ANDHRA CHURN

The much-anticipated churn in Andhra Pradesh politics has begun with actor and Jana Sena chief Pawan Kalyan and Telugu Desam Party supremo N Chandrababu Naidu making clear that henceforth, they will work together ostensibly to save democracy. The duo has a history. Pawan supported the TDP but stayed away from the poll fray in 2014. In 2019, he went his way and ended up with next to nothing. That sent him running into the eager arms of the BJP, which was looking to gain a foothold in the state after Naidu unceremoniously ditched it.

Though Pawan still professes respect for the BJP, it appears he has lost patience with its ambiguous approach towards the Jagan Mohan Reddy government. An actor by profession, the brother of megastar Chiranjeevi is an unlikely politician. Inconsistent, idealistic, emotional and unhinged by turns, Pawan has quite a fan following but has been unable to reap political dividends from their support. Neither could he consolidate his base within the numerically stronger Kapu community he belongs to.

Against this backdrop, since his defeat in 2019, his efforts to carve a place for himself have met stiff resistance from the ruling Yuvajana Shramika Rythu Congress Party (YSRC). The same goes for the TDP. In this respect, both parties have a common enemy in the YSRC. We cannot say the same for the BJP, whose central leadership looks at Jagan with a benign eye. Pawan and Naidu's coming together isn't a surprise for anyone closely watching these developments. It could be argued, however, that the Jagan government's attitude towards both has hastened their ghar wapsi.

Elections are still over a year away, and neither side has spoken of any electoral understanding, but it is just a matter of time. The natural question, then, is whether the Pawan-Naidu combo could upset Jagan's applecart. As things stand, Jagan seems on course to win a second term. Nonetheless, despite Pawan's organisational weakness, a TDP-Jana Sena alliance could make his job tougher, due largely to caste equations. This is surely a big morale booster for Naidu, who has been isolated for the last three-and-a-half years. At first glance, the state BJP looks like the loser in this entire affair. But, as former MP Undavalli Arun Kumar famously quipped, though BJP has a one per cent vote share, it gets 100 per cent seats in the state. That hasn't changed yet.

QUICK TAKE

MAKING SCIENCE TRENDY

The IITs are caught between tweaking their curricula to suit changing career trends and retaining the appeal of research-based science programmes. IIT Bombay is injecting humanities into their fundamentally engineering curriculum. Its Delhi counterpart wants AI and cyber security to jostle with STEM to acquaint the lab world with the real one. The changes are practical, representing not just a curriculum revision but a revamp of IITs' scientific climate. Where the government promotes scientific temper but does away with science awards, and where fresh engineers do MBAs to join MNCs, the IITs have no option but to be in step.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin was emphatic in his opposition to the Parliamentary Committee's recommendations on accelerating the use of Hindi in education and employment sectors. He appealed to the Centre not to force 'another language war'. Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan also echoed the same views and stressed on the "state-specific aspects of the education sector". Objection to the House Panel recommendations emanated from other sources as well.

The recommendations suggested that in the recruitment examinations, "mandatory English language question papers should be discontinued" and "requisite knowledge of Hindi for the selection of employees should be ensured" (Parvez Sultan, The New Indian Express, Oct 9, 2022). The Panel report even recommends casting stigma on the officers or employees who "do not work in Hindi". The Committee recommended ensuring the knowledge of Hindi for the selection of the employees.

The suggestions reflect a lack of understanding of India's diversity and pluralism. The report ignores the three-language formula the country has successfully followed based on the constitutional provisions. The idea of discrimination on the grounds of language in education and employment sectors negates the equality clauses in the Constitution. Earlier, when Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri attempted to install Hindi as the sole official language, agitations spread across the non-Hindi-speaking states. Some Union cabinet ministers threatened to resign. The turmoil created by Shastri's decision ended only with a legislative assurance to use English also as the official language of the Union. History tells us that any decision on language should not be taken lightly by disregarding the notions of linguistic federalism. Conflict in the name of language is a reality worldwide and throughout history.

The Constitution opted for the peaceful co-existence of the Indian languages. It was the invocation of the K M Munshi-Ayyangar formula evolved during the Constituent Assembly debates. That showed almost equal treatment for Hindi, English and the regional languages. This mosaic has a humanistic face.

Under the constitutional scheme, India does not have a national language. Article 343 only says that the official language of the Union shall be Hindi in Devanagari script. The Union's official language cannot be taken as synonymous with the national language. The reason is that India is a 'Union of States' as Article 1 of the Constitution proclaims. The 8th Schedule of the Constitution enlists 22 languages from Assamese to Sanskrit and Urdu as official languages, and Hindi is only one among them. While accepting Hindi as the official language of the Union, Article 343 said that for 15 years from the commencement of the Constitution, "the English language shall continue to be used for all the official purposes of the Union". After 15 years, Parliament was empowered to decide on the question of continuing English as the official language. As we have seen, it was by the indefinite extension granted by amendment to the Official Language Act that English also now continues as an official language of the Union.

Thus, the Constitution made a great balancing act on the question of languages. It did not want an abrupt abolition of English as an official language. By way of Article 344, it envisaged a Commission to make recommendations to the President on the progressive use of Hindi and restrictions on the use of English for official purposes of the Union. But it maintained and fostered all languages necessary for "We the people". Instead of imposing any particular language, Article 345 made it the prerogative of the State Legislature to use any language in the State as the official language.

In Article 348, the Constitution says that the language to be used in the Supreme Court and High Courts and legislation would be English.

However, 348(2) empowers the executive head to permit the use of Hindi. Article 350 is a people's manifesto. It underlines the right of everyone "to submit a representation for the redress of any grievance to any officer or authority of the Union or a State in any of the languages used in the Union or in the State". This effectively facilitates the conversation between the governed and the government. Article 350A promises instruction in the mother tongue at the primary stage.

This accommodative democracy in the constitutional scheme has been significant. It was also a gesture of reconciliation of conflicting claims. It opted for utilitarianism instead of dogmatism. It assimilated tolerance and understanding. In the Constituent Assembly, the views on languages were divergent.

Seth Govind Das and many others supported Hindi as the official language. Naziruddin Ahmad pleaded for the continuation of English "for such a period till when an All India language is evolved". His attack on Hindi was vociferous when he said that it was "in a very rudimentary condition" as a language. Pandit Lakshmi Kanta Maitra reminded them about the glory of Sanskrit, indicated the "bewildering variety of dialects" in Hindi, and implied that Hindi is not an unvarying language. Frank Anthony criticised "the almost malicious and vindictive attitude towards English" and said that the "resentment against the British" should not impact the attitude towards that language. Krishnamoorthy Rao said, "All languages spoken in India (are) our national languages."

In Union of India V Murasoli Maran (1976), the Supreme Court acknowledged the retention of English and said that it doesn't stand in the way of ensuring progress in using Hindi. The court, in that case, endorsed free in-service training in Hindi for government employees without any penalty for failure. The court validated the action and said it was a legitimate exercise of power to promote Hindi and only provided certain incentives. The present recommendations travel far beyond the action endorsed in Murasoli Maran's case. Clarification by some members of the House Panel that no imposition of Hindi is intended is only a consolatory gesture.

At the commencement of the Assembly debates on languages, Dr Rajendra Prasad, who presided over the Assembly, said: "There is no other item in the whole Constitution of the country which will be required to be implemented from day to day, from hour to hour … from minute to minute in actual practice" and that the decision on the language issue "should be acceptable to the country as a whole".

In a democracy, the majority is not the sole criterion for deciding the destiny of the people. The core of constitutional democracy consists in embracing tolerance and linguistic pluralism.

KERALA IS NOT GOD'S COUNTRY FOR ANIMALS

NANDITHA KRISHNA
Historian, environmentalist and writer based in Chennai

I remember an incident that happened in Kerala some years ago. I was travelling from the airport to Thiruvananthapuram city when I saw a dog whose head was stuck in an aluminium pot. The animal was desperately trying to pull out his head. He was in such anguish that he was banging his head and the pot on the ground and running around in circles. A large crowd had gathered to watch the dog and was laughing at the animal's helplessness. I stopped my taxi and asked if there was a veterinary hospital or clinic nearby, but there was none. The crowd went silent when I tried to help the animal, very unsuccessfully. Nobody offered to help me. Finally, one man came forward with a hammer and knife to break the pot, and the two of us managed to free the dog.

I mention this because I was shocked at the callousness of the people. The brutal culling of dogs in Kerala has shocked the nation, making one question the famous phrase, "a dog is man's best friend". Several stray dogs were found dead from poisoning in some areas, following alleged dog bites. A dog accused of attacking people was beaten to death and publicly strung up. More than a dozen stray dogs were found dead from poisoning elsewhere. Last year, a dog was brutally beaten to death at Adimalathura beach in Thiruvananthapuram and hundreds of canines were poisoned to death in Thrikkakara Municipality of Ernakulam. The Kerala High Court had to intervene and issue directions for implementing Animal Birth Control (ABC) measures and vaccination of dogs. But no municipality has taken this seriously

The Corporation of Madras began killing street dogs in 1860. Each year, the number of dogs killed kept increasing, and so did the reported number of rabies cases. Appalled at the horrible way the dogs were being killed, the Blue Cross of India suggested and started the Animal Birth Control programme in 1964 to show that controlling the dog population was as easy as ABC. Blue Cross persuaded the Corporation of Madras to try ABC as a humane alternative. While 135 street dogs were killed in Chennai daily in 1995, all killing was stopped by 1996 by Corporation Commissioner Abul Hassan, following a successful pilot project in South Madras. This led to The Animal Birth Control (Dogs) Rules, 2001, which applies to India. The World Health Organisation (WHO) also adopted ABC to manage dog populations and rabies.

Dogs must be caught, sterilised, vaccinated and returned to the same place since they are territorial animals. They are also excellent watchmen.

Chennai has achieved zero human deaths from rabies in the last five years. Jaipur, Kalimpong, Sikkim, Nilgiris district and Goa are examples of other success stories. ABC is hardly being done in Kerala, so death by rabies continues to be a threat.

FILE PICTURE

During the rains, the elephants have to stand in their dung, urine and rainwater, resulting in tuberculosis and foot infection

Governments expect NGOs to carry out ABC. But NGOs have limited resources. As an issue of public health and safety, this is the duty of every government. NGOs cannot cover one city, let alone a state. The Kerala government must have a state-wide programme of ABC to control the population of dogs and the incidence of rabies. Otherwise, we will see more cruelty towards our canine friends. The Supreme Court has also vacated the stay on feeding strays and directed that the ABC rules must be followed.

Dogs are not the only animals suffering. Seventy-five elephants died after the elephant census in 2018, reducing their numbers from 521 to 446 (all male). There are 44 elephants in Guruvayur temple alone. Last year, 56 elephants died: imagine the conditions that killed so many. The cruel treatment of these gentle giants hits the headlines from time to time when one animal rebels and runs amuck, killing his mahout and the crowd. When a male elephant's musth or mating period ends, the four legs are tied tightly to four poles, and he is beaten viciously, non-stop, for ten days to remind the animal who the master is. Scorching heat, torture with the ankush or goad and bull hooks, long hours of the parade, and unscientific management are taking a toll. Elephants are tethered under trees and, during the rains, have to stand in their dung, urine and rainwater, resulting in tuberculosis and foot infection.

The Supreme Court directive of 2018 against parading injured elephants requires the arrest of the owner under non-bailable charges. Recently, 65 elephants were paraded during the Arattupuzha Pooram, and one animal attacked and injured another. Festivals are conducted in the summer, but elephants cannot survive the heat since they lack sweat glands. Although continuous parading is banned, most elephants seldom get any rest during the festival season, and cases of torture of elephants seldom reach court.

In the 1960s and '70s, Kerala exported tons of frog legs to Europe. The rear legs of live frogs would be chopped off, and the rest of the body was thrown on the beach to die slowly, sometimes after several days. This was fortunately banned by the Indian government in 1987.

I cannot end without speaking about the bovine family. Cattle are trucked from all over India to Kerala, where they are slaughtered brutally. They are beaten till they cannot stand, after which their throats are slit, and they bleed to death. This, I was told, makes the flesh "tender". Here is one more instance of cruelty in God's own country.

The Earth was made for humans, animals and plants. With deforestation, we are destroying the natural environment. We are wiping out entire species of animals, and our cruelty to those animals that help us is unpardonable. Kerala's human indices are good, but to be God's own country, it must help all of God's creations.

Encourage kids to study arts

Vinay Sahasrabuddhe's column, Reforming Arts, Crafts and Culture Education (Oct 19), brings up a question in my mind: Are we not emphasising a lot more on science and pressurising our children to opt for such careers, even though they may be more inclined to arts? The time has come to create an environment of encouragement for students to learn arts.

A new perspective

I read with interest what Vinay Sahasrabuddhe shared about the focus that is needed on arts, performing arts and culture. I am so glad that this topic has received focus in The New Indian Express.

Apropos of Rajasthan government to cover sex reassignment surgery costs of transgenders (Oct 19). Recognising transgenders' identity and allowing them to retain their personality is a fantastic idea and an eye-opening moment for all of us. I really appreciate the Rajasthan government for encouraging this, since this initiative will empower them to live with dignity. Other states must follow suit.

IT slump, freshers sad

Apropos of Slide in IT job market, freshers in peril (Oct 19). As the editorial has rightly stated, the depressing slump in the IT industry has led to downsizing, with the pandemic just adding to the woes. The lack of quality education means that institutions fail to produce industry-ready candidates. Colleges must revamp the syllabi after consulting industrialists and the IT industry.

Long way to go

Apropos of Tackling poverty is on course but daunting challenges remain (Oct 19). It is heartening to know that our nation's Multidimensional Poverty Index has reduced from 0.283 in 2005 to 0.069 in 2019–21. However, it is sad that our country still has the largest number of people (230 million) below the poverty line. Providing education and creating jobs can reduce this gap.

Tharoor upbeat despite loss, emerges winner as 'dissident' candidate

Highest votes a rebel candidate has got so far was when Sharad Pawar secured 888 votes against Sitaram Kesari in 1997

CYNTHIA CHANDRAN @ T'Puram

IT was a 'fixed' match. And that Shashi Tharoor would lose was a foregone conclusion, given the official backing for Mallikarjun Kharge. Still, Tharoor has emerged a winner despite losing it.

The fact that he managed to poll 1,072 votes is no small thing. It is for the first time in the history of Congress politics that a "dissident" candidate has garnered this high number of votes. The highest votes a rebel candidate has got so far was when Sharad Pawar got 888 votes against Sitaram Kesari, Gandhi family's official candidate in 1997.

Speculations were rife about Tharoor's political future as Tharoor was celebrating his "defeat" with several lakhs of people from across the country congratulating him on his social media accounts. While some predicted that the Gandhi family will not pardon Tharoor for contesting against their choice, there were some some who predicted that Tharoor will be chosen to the CWC or else as one of the working presidents in charge of one among the four regions when the next plenary session of the Congress will be held during February 2023.

My intention was to revive the party and I have succeeded in that. I have not sought any party positions before the AICC leadership

Shashi Tharoor, Congress MP

There is also speculation that he would be Congress' CM candidate in 2024.

"Congress leadership is not foolish to hand over Tharoor to opponents," said a party leader. Tharoor, however, told this newspaper that he is in "no hurry". "My intention was to revive the party and I have succeeded in that. I have not sought any party positions before the AICC leadership," he said.

Tharoor also said that he was particularly happy about the response he got from his home state, Kerala. "I'm happy with the poll turnout in favour of me from my home State. As per my friends estimate, I have got more than 140 votes from Kerala," Tharoor told this newspaper.

According to sources, the quantum of votes that Tharoor has got was beyond the expectations of the party high command.

"He would not get more than 500 votes," a CWC member had told this paper in the morning. But the high command has already asked insiders to find out how and where they have gone wrong about the support Tharoor has received.

That Tharoor alleged of rigging in the presidential poll in Uttar Pradesh also has not gone down well with the Congress High Command. "It has put Priyanka Gandhi, AICC general secretary in charge of Uttar Pradesh, in a bad light," said a Congress leader.

No end to role in party

Bilkis case convict on parole harassed woman

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE 477-page counter affidavit of the Gujarat government in the Bilkis Bano case, which the Supreme Court found bulky, has revealed the flawed character of one of the 11 convicts the State released on remission citing good behaviour.

An annexure dated May 25, 2022 addressed to the Collector and District Magistrate, by Balram Meena, the Superintendent of Police, Dahod, said Mitesh Chimanlal Bhatt, one of the convicts, was charged for outraging a woman's modesty on June 19, 2020 while he was on parole.

An FIR was registered at the Randhikpur police station invoking various IPC sections, including 354 (outraging the modesty of a woman), 504 (intentional insult with intent to provoke breach of peace) and 506 (criminal intimidation). A chargesheet was later filed and the case is under trial.

Yet, Meena had no issues with Bhatt's premature release, arguing the chargesheet "guarantees that the accused agrees to uphold any future judgment given by Hon'ble Court (Dahod court) in this case."

His letter also revealed that till May 25, 2022 Bhatt had enjoyed "954 parole, furlough leaves". Importantly, he was out of prison for 281 days after the June 19, 2020 incident.

The annexures further disclosed that over 1,000 days of "leave" from jail, including parole and furlough, was enjoyed by at least 10 out of the 11 convicts.

Besides claiming their good behaviour, the Gujarat government in its counter said the decision to release the convicts had the Centre's approval.

SC reserves order in plea to transfer Viveka murder trial

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday reserved its orders in a petition filed by Suneetha Narreddy, daughter of former MP and YSRCP leader YS Vivekananda Reddy, seeking transfer of investigation into the murder of her father from CBI special court in Andhra Pradesh to Hyderabad or Delhi.

While expressing its inclination to transfer the trial to Hyderabad, the bench led by Justice MR Shah pulled up Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) for the delay in completing the probe.

"What we're considering is that there is no likelihood for a fair trial. Justice is not likely to be done, but seen to be done. The moment it is found that witnesses are required, special protection and security provided to witnesses is a good ground to transfer the trial. Whenever CBI has tried to investigate, there is always opposition to investigation. We'll not opine anything, but conclusively there is threat perception and we are on reasonable threat perception," the bench had remarked.

"When are you going to complete the investigation? You cannot take years to complete the investigation? In all CBI matters in economic offences it takes years and years. 3, 4, 5, 10 years. The investigation was handed over to the CBI with all seriousness. Is this how you're working? Two years?," Justice Shah told ASG KM Nataraj, who appeared for the CBI.

He had sought six more months to probe into the larger conspiracy. Nataraj also apprised the bench that the agency had filed a second chargesheet.

Kharge to strengthen party, Rahul to be PM face, says Gogoi

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

WHILE questions are being raised over the role of Rahul Gandhi after Mallikarjun Kharge becoming the Congress chief, senior Congress leader Gaurav Gogoi said that Rahul Gandhi will be the Prime Ministerial face in the 2024 elections.

"There are many Congress workers who feel that Rahul is the best person to be the PM candidate. Kharge will strengthen the Congress as the president," he said. "We feel that no other leader can take the effort that Rahul is putting behind the Bharat Jodo yatra. Name one political leader in India who is willing to walk 3000 km to unite India," he added. While critics say that Kharge will act as a rubber stamp of the top leadership, Gogoi dismissed such allegations.

"Calling Kharge a rubber stamp is ludicrous. As the leader of the opposition in Rajya Sabha, he has managed to unite not only the Congress behind him but in the Parliament, he has managed to unite all other major opposition parties as well. Words such as rubber stamps are essentially made by those political parties that have no internal democracy," he said. Talking about the CWC election, Gogoi said that Kharge has promised to implement the Udaipur Chintan Shivir resolution, which includes the election to the Working committee. "Let Kharge take over and outline his vision and his roadmap for the party in the next few months. But in his campaign, he has already said that he will implement the letter and spirit of the promises made during the Udaipur Chintan Shivir. It said that not only CWC, all major organisational posts, the representation of young people, especially women should be increased," he said.

UN chief says India taking leading role in providing reliefs

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA has increased its impact of humanitarian assistance globally by providing aid to countries that need it, said UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres. "From India's donations of medicines, medical equipment and vaccines at the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, to humanitarian assistance and development finance to Afghanistan and Sri Lanka, India has been increasing its impact on the international stage. India is today a partner of choice of the UN," said Guterres while addressing students while giving an address in Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Mumbai.

The UNSG also complimented India for stepping up its efforts to supply vaccines to many countries during the peak of Covid 19. Meanwhile, Guterres complimented India as being the biggest contributor in UN Peacekeeping.

"India is also the biggest provider of military and police personnel to UN missions, including the first all-women UN police contingent to a peacekeeping mission. Over 200,000 Indian men and women have served in 49 peacekeeping missions since 1948, a remarkable contribution to peace in the world," he added.

He also said that as a member of the UNSC for two years, India's contributed significantly to promoting multilateral solutions and addressing crises. "India was a founding member of the United Nations. The drafters of the UN Charter took great inspiration from Gandhiji's message of peace, non-violence, and tolerance," he added.

Antonio Guterres, UN secy general

Earlier, UN Chief paid tributes to the victims of the 26/11 terror attacks at the Taj Mahal Palace hotel in Mumbai.

"Terror is absolute evil. There are no reasons, no pretext, no causes, and no grievances that can justify terrorism. terrorism is absolute evil. It has no room in today's world," Guterres added.

"I feel deeply moved to be here where barbaric terrorist acts took place where that led to the loss of 166 lives. I want to pay tribute to the victims they are heroes of all world and I want to express my deepest condolences to their families, to their friends, to the people of India, and to all those that are coming from other parts of the world that have lost their lives in Mumbai," he said.

He also said that "fighting terrorism must be a global priority for every country on earth and fighting terrorism is a central priority for the UN".

RSS meeting focuses on population imbalance, 'conversion conspiracy'

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE four-day national executive meeting of the Rashtriya Swayamsewak Sangh (RSS) ended on Wednesday with a detailed discussion on population explosion in the country. The Sangh leadership, in the presence of RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat, expressed concern over the challenges that might crop up due to increase in population.

They also proposed to frame an 'acceptable-to-all' policy to bring the situation under control.

"The imbalance in population has resulted in the disintegration of a number of nations, including India... The Sangh Pariwar believes that the dispensation should come up with a robust population policy which is acceptable to all," said Sarkaryavahak Dattatreya Hosable

"We think that the dispensation should work legally towards checking the practice of conversion, which is depleting the population of Hindus in various parts of the nation. The racket of conversion is being run as a 'conspiracy'.

Some border states like Assam, West Bengal and Bihar are facing challenges of intrusion from neighbouring countries. These states are witnessing a considerable depletion in the population of Hindus, who have become minority in some parts," said Hosable adding that if this is continued, Hindus would become minority at other places also.

"The RSS believes that those getting converted for reservation should not be given that benefit at any cost," said Hosable.

When asked about the efforts being made by Sangh, especially by RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat to reach out to Muslims, Hosable said that RSS always believed in inclusiveness.

CAA: HC TOLD TO DISPOSE OF CASES OF POLICE ATROCITIES

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday "requested" the Delhi HC to dispose of cases relating to alleged atrocities by the police during the violence that erupted in Jamia Millia Islamia (JMI) in December 2019.

Expressing its intention to not specify a time limit bench of Justices Aniruddha Bose and Vikram Nath in their order said, "We are requesting the HC to hear the matters early, considering the length of time these matters are pending. So far as the present petitions are concerned as they are on overlapping points, we do not find any reason to keep them pending. These shall stand disposed of in view of this order."

Appearing for Nabila Hasan and Iman Usmani, Senior Advocate Colin Gonsalves had submitted before the bench that the pleas which sought action against the cops were pending before the HC for three years. He had also added that the Delhi HC bench had issued an order releasing the matter from "part heard". In the plea before the HC, the petitioners, while blaming forces for using extreme, ruthless and excessive physical force, had also raised questions of the police using extreme measures.

No urgent hearing on movie Thank God

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE SC on Wednesday refused to grant urgent listing to the plea filed by Chitragupta Welfare Trust seeking to ban the release of Bollywood movie Thank God starring Ajay Devgan which is set to release on October 25. While rejecting the urgent listing, a bench of CJI UU Lalit and Justice Bela M Trivedi posted the petition for November 1, 2022.

The counsel had although submitted that if the petition is heard on November 1, it would become infructuous but the bench did not pay any heed. The petition which had also sought for removal of the trailers and posters from YouTube and other electronic platforms had argued that the release of the movie was violative of Article 14 and 25. "The religious sentiments of the petitioner, including other Kayastha people in the country is being harmed/injured and fundamental right is infringed and violated by the respondents by making and releasing the said movie," the petition added.

Modi announces 4th 'positive list' of 101 defence equipment

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN a bid to transform the Indian defence sector to achieve self-reliance, and boost the export of defence items, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday released the 'Fourth Positive Indigenisation List' of 101 equipment and systems at DefExpo 2022 in Gandhinagar. The PM also unveiled indigenous trainer aircraft and laid the foundation stone of a new airbase at Deesha. In a statement, the Ministry of Defence said, "All the items included in the lists will be procured from indigenous sources as per provisions given in Defence Acquisition Procedure 2020."

The MoD had earlier promulgated 'First, Second and Third Positive Indigenisation Lists', comprising 310 items on August 21, 2020, May 31, 2021 and April 07, 2022 respectively.

The ministry has taken numerous steps to achieve 'Aatmanirbharta' in defence, and Positive Indigenisation Lists is one of the landmark initiatives towards achieving the vision.

The fourth list has been prepared by the MoD after several rounds of consultations with all stakeholders, including the industry. "It lays special focus on equipment and systems, which are being developed and likely to translate into firm orders in the next five to 10 years. Like the first three lists, import substitution of ammunition, which is a recurring requirement, has been given special focus," the MoD added.

The Prime Minister also unveiled HTT-40, an indigenous trainer aircraft designed and developed by Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) at the DefExpo. The aircraft has state-of-the-art contemporary systems and has been designed with pilot-friendly features.

The HTT-40 would be used for basic flight training, aerobatics, instrument flying and close formation flights whereas its secondary roles would include navigation and night flying.

Rustam-II trials to be over by '23

NEW DELHI: The much awaited indigenous Medium Altitude Long Endurance (MALE) Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV) is expected to complete its user trials by August 2023. Another project for production of its armed version is also underway simultaneously by the Defence Research and Development Organisation. Another source said, the important "night flying trials have started but held up due to logistical issues and are expected to be completed shortly." The User trials will be conducted soon, he added. 11 MLAs dropped from BJP's HP list

5 women figure in party's first list of 62 candidates, no place for former CM Dhumal

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

Himachal Pradesh CM Jairam Thakur addresses supporters before filing his nomination from Seraj for Assembly polls, in Mandi district, on Wednesday | PTI

AFTER the first meeting of the BJP's newly constituted Central Election Committee on Tuesday evening where PM Modi was also present, the BJP on Wednesday released the first list of 62 candidates, dropping 11 sitting MLAs, for the Himachal Pradesh assembly polls due November 12.

The last date for filing the nomination is on October 25 for the 68-member Assembly.

Among the 62 candidates, five are women and one is a retired IAS officer. In line with PM Modi's vision to ensure 'proportional representation' for the Schedules Tribe groups, eight candidates belonging to the community, have been given the ticket. The state has only three ST reserved seats. A senior BJP leader said the party decision is in line with ST count in the state, which is 5.7% of the state's population.

On similar lines, the party has given the nomination to 17 candidates who belong to the Schedule Castes.

The party, after wider consultation, has dropped 11 sitting MLAs and changed the assembly seats of two ministers, Suresh Bhardwaj and Rakesh Pathania.

Bhardwaj is the party candidate for the Kasumpti assembly seat instead of Shimla Urban from where he is the sitting MLA. Rakesh Pathania, the sitting MLA from Nurpur, has been given the ticket from the Fatehpur seat while Mahendra Singh, MLA from Dharampur, has been replaced by his son Rajat Thakur.

The incumbent Chief Minister Jairam Thakur, sitting MLA from Seraj seat, will contest from the same seat. Surprisingly, the party dropped former CM Prem Kumar Dhumal, whose son Anurag Thakur is the Union minister in the Modi cabinet. Dhumal is kept out because of his old age.

The party has also accommodated Chetan Bragat, who had earlier contested as an independent in the by-election after being denied the ticket. He has been fielded from Jubbal-Kotkhai assembly seat.

Former Union minister Sukha Ram's son Anil Sharma will contest from the Mandi assembly seat.

Meanwhile, party sources said that the BJP has decided not to give the party nomination to tainted and corrupt candidates. "It was among many other decisions taken at a meeting of the party's newly reshaped Central Election Committee," said a party source.

The meeting was held for the first time after it was recast with the inclusion of many new faces after dropping a few others in a bid to ensure proper proportional representation to all sections.

"It was unanimously decided to give the ticket to the candidates of a clean political image on the basis of their performance in the party and their wider reach among the people," said a party source.

Punjab govt plans to hire plane, draws Oppn flak

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE AAP-led Punjab government is set to hire an aircraft on a one-year lease for the VIP movement. The chosen one is a Dassault Falcon 2000, a wide-body transcontinental twin-engine aircraft which can carry around 10 passengers.

Before coming to power, AAP had ridiculed the previous Congress and SAD government for spending "so much on flying," saying those leaders had not given up their "royal habits."

The state government has been hiring chartered flights for CM Bhagwant Mann's frequent trips to poll-bound Gujarat. The CM is also using state-owned helicopter to visit Himachal Pradesh along with Arvind Kejriwal for campaigning in the Assembly polls.

The state government recently issued a short-term notice for empanelment for air charter service providers.

In 2008, a state-owned fixed-wing aircraft crashed and since then the state has not had its own aircraft. Hiring a plane costs at least ₹1.5 lakh per hour, excluding taxes. A few months back, the Punjab government hired planes twice for the CM to visit Gujarat which cost the government around ₹99 lakh.

A fixed-wing aircraft is considered faster and safer than a helicopter. In 2013, the government contemplated buying an aircraft but dropped the idea. The government has a five-seat twin-engine Bell 429 helicopter that is used for VIP flying. The chopepr cost ₹38 crore in 2012 and is mostly used by the CM.

The government decision has drawn the Opposition flak. The SAD has asked Mann why he is spending crores from the state exchequer to fund Kejriwal's air travel and why the government has decided to have an aircraft when it has a chopper.

Cases against babus add to staffing woes

In recent weeks, state's IAS officers are in the news for all the wrong reasons. Shortage of bureaucrats in Chhattisgarh is not much different from the situation in other states, with 166 out of the allotted 193 posts currently occupied. Recently, the Enforcement Directorate (ED) raided residential premises of three IAS officers under the PMLA. One of them now is under ED's custodial remand. Complaints and cases against 45 IAS officers have been adding to their woes. Amid excessive delay or no action being initiated against them, the high court has asked the state to file a reply by November 16. The state, meanwhile, informed the HC that it is preparing to file a better reply.

When Cong, BJP fought over an ED press note

It rarely happens that an everyday press release issued by a central probe agency becomes contentious politically. It happened in the state recently when former chief minister Raman Singh shared a press note by ED on social media, at least a day before the agency uploaded it on its site. With the opposition BJP sharpening its attack on the state government, Congress leaders began questioning the purported ED release – calling it "suspicious" since it was first tagged by the ex-CM. Debates ensued over the row, loaded with political allegations and counter accusations, until the ED came out with an explanation to solve it.

Festive cheer: Women get skill training

The festive season brings with it more expenses for households. Over 350 women members of local self-help groups (SHGs) in the power hub district of Korba, have earned additional income, thanks to a series of initiatives rolled out by Bharat Aluminium. Under its community development project, 'Unnati', Balco has created several capacity building programmes to empower SHG members with training to create different products that are an integral part of festive occasions. The participants have acquired skills and sold numerous handmade items for additional income generation.

Not me, CPM drove Tatas out of Singur: Mamata

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

FOURTEEN years after Tata Motors' exit from Singur, Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday chose to travel back in time, asserting she did not drive industry out of the state.

The protests spearheaded by her along with the Socialist Unity Centre of India, the rights groups, Medha Patkar and Arundhati Roy et al swearing by the tribal rights had brought the then-ruling Left Front headed by the CPI-M to its knees in 2008. The Nano, the supposedly cheapest and the smallest car of the moment, was the talking point. Slid off the buyers' market, Nano has disappeared, as Didi's Trinamool Congress lives on in Singur to fight poll battles.

"Some people are saying nonsense... I did not drive Tata Motors out. It was the CPI-M. They acquired land forcibly and I returned it to the unwilling owners," said Mamata. "We do not discriminate against any industrialist,'' Mamata tried to clear the air. She was addressing a Bijoya Sammilani, a post-Durga Puja event, in Siliguri.

Mamata's remarks are significant ahead of the rural polls due next year. Political observers found her statement an effort to build up her investment-friendly image as opposition parties are portraying Bengal as an industry-starved state.

Mamata's allegation drew flak from the opposition. "No one can imagine the extent of lies she can tell publicly. People of Bengal know who drove the Tatas out of Bengal. People know who ruined the future of Bengal's youth,'' said CPI-M's central committee member Sujan Chakrabarty.

State Congress chief Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury said Mamata spent government money to dismantle Tata Motors' structure in Singur. "She claims to have returned the land and promised cultivation, but the area is lying barren,'' he said.

BJP MP Locket Chatterjee, under whose constituency Singur is located, said, "Whenever I visited Singur, the villagers showed me their training certificates issued by the Tatas. It was Mamata Banerjee who led the movement against the company."

AHEAD OF BYPOLL

Aide of RJD's Mokama strongman shot dead

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Patna

A close aide of muscleman and former RJD MLA Anant Singh was shot dead in broad daylight in Patna on Wednesday, intensifying tension in the Mokama area ahead of the Assembly by-poll. Dheeraj Singh, 42, a resident of Deoli in Nalanda district, was killed by unidentified armed criminals at Patliputra Colony when he was travelling in a car. The assailants fired at least 12 bullets on his car. Singh, a former mukhiya, later succumbed to injuries.

Police said Singh, better known as Lalji, was seeking votes for Anant Singh's wife Neelam Devi who is contesting on RJD ticket. The elections will be held on November 3.

It is believed that Dheeraj was killed in retaliation of the murder of another muscleman, Fantu Singh. Fantu was close to another don of Mokama, Viveka Pehalwan, who had an old rivalry with Anant Singh. Both Anant and Viveka had buried the hatchet recently.

"The rivalry between Anant and Lalan Singh (husband of BJP nominee Sonam Devi) is a known secret," Jaiprakash Singh, a local resident, said.

Authorities have intensified patrolling in the constituency. "We are keeping a watch on the activities of people with shady past," a police officer said.

English no benchmark of intellect, NEP to free us from slavery: PM

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

Prime Minister Narendra Modi with students during the launch of the Mission Schools of Excellence initiative at Trimandir, Adalaj, in Gujarat on Wednesday | PTI

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi has said the English language is just a medium of communication, not a benchmark of intellect.

His remarks came at the launch of the Gujarat government's Mission Schools of Excellence initiative at Adalaj town in Gandhinagar district on Wednesday.

Three days after Union Minister launched Hindi textbooks for MBBS students in Madhya Pradesh, PM explained the use of local languages. "Earlier, knowledge of the English language was considered a mark of being intellectual. In reality, the English language is just a medium of communication."

"For so many decades, the English language has become such a hindrance that the country has not been able to get the benefit of the talent pool in villages and among poor families," said the PM.

"The new National Education Policy is an attempt to free the country from the mentality of slavery and promote talent and innovation," he said.

The recently launched 5G telecom service will take the education system to the next level in the country. "The 5G service will go beyond smart facilities, smart classrooms, as well as smart teachings," he said.

He recalled the contribution of India's scientists and other knowledge experts. "Education has been the pivot of India's development since ancient times. Our ancestors built the world's best universities and set up the largest libraries hundreds of years ago," said the PM.

Then came the period of invasion, he said, and along with it, a campaign to destroy the unique wealth of India. "We have not abandoned our strong insistence on education. That's why even today, in the world of knowledge and science, India has a different identity in innovation," he said.

"In the Azadi Ka Amrit Kaal, there is an opportunity for us to get back our ancient prestige," Modi said. He highlighted India's potential to become a great knowledge economy in the world. "In the 21st century, I have no hesitation in claiming that most of the innovations related to science and technology, will be made in India."

Later in the day while addressing a gathering in Junagarh, the PM said some political parties are constantly targeting Gujarat. Without naming AAP, Modi said some parties are trying to make inroads into Gujarat by "abusing Gujarat and Gujarati people" across India and the world.

For so many decades, the English language has become such a hindrance that the country has not been able to get the benefit of the talent pool in villages and among poor families

Outrage over 'Kashmir a separate country' in Bihar school exam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Patna

THE Nitish Kumar-led Bihar government has been left red-faced after Kashmir was referred to as a separate country in a question paper given to Class 7 students of government schools in Kishanganj district. With the grand alliance government already facing a challenge from a belligerent BJP, the exally of RJD, the state government swung into damage control mode as soon as the issue started snowballing into a major controversy.

State Education Minister and RJD leader Chandrashekhar, told the media that the district magistrate has been asked to conduct an inquiry and submit his report. "It is a serious lapse and action would be taken against the guilty officers," Chandrashekhar said.

The controversial question appeared in the English half-yearly exam, wherein students were asked what citizens of Nepal, England, Kashmir and India are called. The question paper was approved by the Bihar Education Project Council, an autonomous body of the state education department.

"We received the question paper from Bihar Education Project Council. The question had to ask what people from Kashmir are called. It was a human error," the headmaster of Asha Lata Middle School said.

Bihar BJP president Sanjay Jaiswal asserted that it cannot be considered human error. "It exposes a nefarious nexus between the Nitish Kumar-led government and the banned outfit Popular Front of India (PFI) as the latter's supporters are holding positions in the government," he tweeted, requesting the Centre to take action against the Bihar government and order an NIA probe.

He added that the education department had conspired to separate the Seemanchal districts by declaring a holiday on Friday even in Hindi-medium schools. "Now, students are told that citizens of India and Kashmir are different. It only demonstrates that the entire government is with the PFI nexus," Jaiswal said.

Kishanganj district, with around 68 per cent Muslim population, is where Union Home Minister Amit Shah had earlier addressed a public meeting to launch his offensive against Nitish and his allies after the exit of the Bihar chief minister's JD (U) from NDA.

'Rapist' teacher fakes death to skip arrest

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

'STAGED' PICTURE
Neeraj apparently persuaded his father to enact the drama. A photo was taken where he was shown on a pyre being purportedly lit by his father

ON October 17, Neeraj Modi, a teacher, walked down the Bhagalpur Central Jail, lost and listless. He had done everything to live — and 'die' — after committing the gravest of crimes, raping a minor. The sense of shame, perhaps, took him to commit yet another crime — fake his death, and live on thereafter, police sources said.

Neeraj surrendered before the special POCSO court in Bhagalpur and a court remanded him in 14-day judicial custody in Bhagalpur jail.

On October 14, 2018, the minor's mother filed an FIR at the Ishipur Barahat police station against the teacher alleging her minor daughter's rape. However, by the time police acted and the matter reached the court, it was "proved" that Neeraj had died leading to the closure of the case.

A few months later, some villagers told the victim's mother that the teacher was alive and that they had seen him. The woman approached the Block Development Officer (BDO) who formed a probe team, which proved that the death certificate was issued wrongly. An FIR was lodged against Neeraj's father Jairam Modi. The birth and death registrar Dharmendra Kumar cancelled Neeraj's death certificate on the BDO's recommendation.

On May 21, an FIR was lodged against Jairam Modi leading to his arrest and he was produced before the court, which sent him to judicial custody.

Special POCSO court judge Lavkush Kumar summoned the station house officer of Pirpaithi police station to the court and ordered the reopening of the case. A contempt notice was issued against the SHO for his failure to give satisfactory replies.

But how did Neeraj almost 'prove' that he was dead? Police sources said the teacher persuaded his father to enact the drama. A photograph was taken where Neeraj was shown lying on a pyre being purportedly lit by his father.

Later, his father even managed to get the death certificate of his 'living' son from the panchayat secretary on the basis of the copy of the transaction receipt issued at the time of purchasing the firewood for cremating the 'body.'

After the father got the death certificate from the local authorities, he deposited it in court, leading to the closure of the case.

Putin declares martial law in four annexed territories

Russians in Kherson flee east of Dnieper river

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin on Wednesday declared martial law in four regions of Ukraine recently annexed by Moscow as his proxy officials in a southern-held city pulled out with Ukraine troops advancing.

Putin's decree to introduce military rule in the Moscow-controlled regions also gives additional power to authorities in Russian border areas and comes after a string of battlefield defeats.

"We are working on solving very complex large-scale tasks to ensure security and protect the future of Russia," Putin said. The decree gives greater powers to limit movement to, from and within the areas and allows for the residents of those territories to be moved to "safe zones".

Pro-Kremlin officials meanwhile said they were pulling out of the key southern Ukraine city of Kherson on Wednesday, as Kyiv's forces advanced on territory in Russian hands since the war's earliest days.

People wait in Kyiv subway, using it as a bomb shelter on Wednesday | AP

Kherson was the first major city to fall to Moscow's troops since the February invasion began and retaking it would be a crucial prize in Ukraine's counter-offensive. "The entire administration is already moving today," to the eastern bank of the Dnieper River, the Kherson region's Moscow-installed head, Vladimir Saldo, told Russian state television.But Andriy Yermak, the Ukrainian presidency's chief of staff, called the moves a "propaganda show" and accused Russia of "trying to scare the people of Kherson".Agencies

IT'S BRAVERMAN'S TURN TO QUIT

LONDON

INDIAN-ORIGIN British Home Secretary Suella Braverman resigned on Wednesday after a "mistake" in using her private e-mail for ministerial communication in London.

Braverman was only appointed Home Secretary 43 days ago when British Prime Minister Liz Truss took charge at 10 Downing Street.

Her exit followed a face-to-face meeting with Truss earlier on Wednesday and posted her resignation letter on her Twitter handle.

"I have made a mistake; I accept responsibility; I resign," the 42-year-old barrister said.

Braverman said she "sent an official document from my personal e-mail to a trusted parliamentary colleague ... as you know, the document was a draft Written Ministerial Statement about migration".

"Nevertheless it is right for me to go. As soon as I realised my mistake, I rapidly reported this on official channels, and informed the Cabinet Secretary," she said.

In remarks that could deal a further blow to her boss Liz Truss, she noted that "we are going through a tumultuous time... I have concerns about the direction of this government".

"Not only have we broken key pledges that were promised to our voters, but I have had serious concerns about this government's commitment to honouring manifesto commitments, such as reducing overall migration numbers and stopping illegal migration, particularly the dangerous small boats crossings," she wrote.

SHORTEST HOME OFFICE STINTS

- Suella Braverman (43 days)
- Donald Somervell (62 days)
- Alan Johnson (340 days)
- David Waddington (398 days)
- Kenneth Clark (412 days)

Braverman, the Conservative Party member of Parliament for Fareham in south-east England, served as the Attorney General in the Boris Johnson-led government. She was among the first contenders to throw her hat in the ring to replace Johnson as Tory leader and Prime Minister. She was named as the Home Secretary by Prime Minister Truss.

The mother of two children is the daughter of Hindu Tamil mother Uma and Goan-origin father Christie Fernandes. Her mother migrated to the UK from Mauritius while her father migrated from Kenya in the 1960s.

Her resignation comes hours after she said the UK is "eager" to secure a trade deal with India to boost both economies and that Brexit has meant that Britain no longer has a Eurocentric mindset towards trade or visas, days after she caused a stir with her "concerns" over what she feared could be an "open borders" approach in the ongoing trade talks with India.

Addressing a Diwali event organised by UK-based India Global Forum (IGF) here on Tuesday evening, she spoke of being a proud member of the British Indian community and hailed the contribution made by the Indian diaspora to British life.

In an apparent effort to override her recent controversial remarks about Indians forming the largest group of visa overstayers, the minister said the UK's villages, towns and cities have been 'profoundly enriched by immigration from India'.

"Naturally, there is an economic imperative for our countries to work together, which is why we are so eager to secure a trade deal," said Braverman.

"But the boost to our economies is not the only virtue in making our friendship even stronger. We have a shared vision that by 2030 we will enjoy an even stronger partnership. As Home Secretary, I particularly value the cooperation on security matters between our two countries. This is vital, on a domestic level in India and in the UK but also more broadly on an international scale, especially in the Indo-Pacific," she said.

UK inflation rises to 40-yr high of 10.1% in September

LONDON

BRITISH inflation jumped back above 10 per cent in September on soaring food prices, official data showed on Wednesday, with the country gripped by a cost-of-living crisis bedevilling the government.

The Consumer Prices Index accelerated to 10.1 per cent on an annual basis, up from 9.9 per cent in August, the Office for National Statistics said in a statement.

The September rate matched the level in July and is the highest in 40 years as a result also of sky-high energy bills. "I understand that families across the country are struggling with rising prices and higher energy bills," finance minister Jeremy Hunt said.

"This government will prioritise help for the most vulnerable while delivering wider economic stability and driving long-term growth that will help everyone."

The government has been rocked by chaos in markets in the wake a budget that pledged tax cuts that would have been funded by state debt. Most of those measures have since been reversed, leaving Prime Minister Liz Truss fighting to save her job. AFP

Missing activists: Gotabaya to get summons

COLOMBO

SRI Lanka's Supreme Court on Wednesday directed authorities to issue summons to ousted president Gotabaya Rajapaksa to appear in court over the disappearances of two activists in 2011 as he has now been stripped of constitutional immunity.

Rajapaksa, 73, will now be required to give evidence in the case filed on the disappearance of two rights activists Lalith Weeraraj and Kugan Muruganathan in the northern district of Jaffna. The disappearances took place 12 years ago soon after the end of the country's long civil war when Rajapaksa was a powerful official at the Defence Ministry under the presidency of his elder brother, Mahinda Rajapaksa. At the time, Gotabaya Rajapaksa was accused of overseeing abduction squads that whisked away rebel suspects, critical journalists and activists, many of them never to be seen again. He has previously denied any wrongdoing. When Rajapaksa was originally summoned to appear in court in 2018, he petitioned claiming his life would be under threat if he were to travel to Jaffna.PTI

Pressure on French govt over 12-yr-old's murder

Paris: France's government acknowledged Wednesday that it had to "do better" on illegal immigration after it emerged that an Algerian woman charged with the murder of a 12-year-old girl had been ordered to leave the country. The brutalised body of the victim, identified only as "Lola" under French law, was found in a plastic box after going missing in northeast Paris last week.

UK-India FTA unlikely amid crisis

Political instability and economic crisis in the former country are likely to derail the pact

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE free trade agreement (FTA) between the UK and India is unlikely to happen because of political instability and economic crisis in the former country, people familiar with the matter told TNIE.

The sources also confirmed the cancellation of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to London for signing of a bilateral agreement between both the countries.

"PM Modi was slated to travel to London around Diwali time for the trade pact between the UK and India. But now due to political instability and economic turmoil in the UK, the visit has been canceled," a government source added. He added that the FTA is unlikely to materialise in 2023.

Meanwhile, a commerce ministry official said the deal can only happen if it is beneficial for the country. "The pace of negotiation between both the countries got impacted due to political instability in the UK. At this point, it is difficult to conclude the trade deal. We can't put any timeline to it as we couldn't meet the Diwali deadline. Entering into FTA can be beneficial, if it is fair and balanced," the official added.

The decision comes following UK Home Secretary Suella Braverman's controversial remarks on Indians being visa overstayers. In a recent interview with "The Spectator" weekly news magazine, she had flagged concerns about a trade deal between the Uk and India as it would lead to an increase in migration of more Indians who represent the largest group overstaying their visas in the UK. However, later, as per the reports, she tried to override her comment saying that the immigration from India has profoundly enriched the UK's states, towns and villages. She also added that the UK is eager to secure a trade deal with India.

It is also believed that the UK authorities are in no hurry to seal the trade deal in a hurry as they do not want to sacrifice quality for speed. India had a total trade of $17.5 billion with the UK in 2021-22. India's exports to the UK in 2021-22 were worth $10.5 billion while imports from the country were at $7 billion.

Besides this, FTA with Israel has been put on hold for time being, as India is not getting a fair deal. "We will enter into a trade deal with Israel only if we get a fair deal. The day we get a good deal, we will go ahead with the FTA. It is still in the works," the official stated.

India's mobile, broadband speed rank falls

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

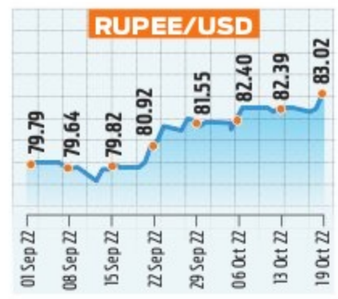
INDIA slipped a rank in median mobile network speeds, as well as fixed broadband speeds, according to Ookla Speedtest Global Index.

However, India has improved its median download speed slightly from 13.52 Mbps in August to 13.87 Mbps in September. In the fixed broadband median, the average speed increased from 48.29 Mbps in August to 48.59 Mbps in September. In its August report, India was ranked 117 and 78 in median mobile data and fixed broadband speeds globally, respectively, but now the country is placed at 118th and 79th positions respectively.

China tops the Speedtest Global Index with Shanghai as the fastest city with a median download speed of 158.63 Mbps for mobile networks.

Rupee breaches 83 mark for first time against dollar

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi



AFTER remaining range bound since last Monday, rupee fell drastically against the US dollar on Wednesday and closed to life-time low above 83-mark.

The fall comes as US bond yields surged sharply on Wednesday, resulting in most Asian currencies getting weaker and hitting fresh lows (in terms of value) against the greenback. Rupee closed at 83.02 per US dollar compared with the previous close of 82.36 per dollar. Rupee has shed over 11% against the US currency so far in 2022.

"Flurry of buy orders from inter-bank dealers and speculators due to massive short covering pushed the market higher. It seems the central bank was not that visibly active and that caused prices to rise sharply. Global cues were USD positive as risk off sentiments, strong dollar index, weak Asian currencies and surging US bond yields, all coupled to push USD-INR higher," said Anindya Banerjee, VP-currency derivatives & interest rate derivatives at Kotak Securities.

> Global cues were USD positive as risk off sentiments, strong dollar, weak Asian currencies and surging US bond yields, all coupled to push USD-INR higher
>
> Anindya Banerjee of Kotak Securities

The 10-year US yield rose to 4.08% on Wednesday during Asian trading hours, as markets brace for another round of aggressive rate hikes from the Federal Reserve in November and December. Other central banks are expected to go for aggressive rate hikes to tame inflation. The dollar index, which gauges greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, advanced 0.31% to 112.48.

The index gained significantly from falling pound sterling value after inflation in the UK accelerated to a 40-year high in September. Banerjee of Kotak Securities expects USD-INR to trade with a positive bias, within a range of 82.70 and 83.50 levels in near future. Rahul Kalantri, VP Commodities, Mehta Equities, however, expects rupee will show some weakness in coming days and see 84-level soon. RBI's less aggressive stance to support rupee by selling dollar in the open market comes over a week after the central bank is believed to have intervened regularly in keeping rupee at around 82.40 levels. Rupee on October 7 had breached the 82/$ mark for the first time.

"With possibly the RBI buying dollars in currency futures yesterday indicating of things to come, it was only time when 82.40 would have been breached. So no level seems to be sacrosanct for the rupee, and therefore 83.50 should be the next target once 83.00 is breached," said Anil Kumar Bhansali, Head of Treasury at Finrex Treasury Advisors.

NDTV TAKEOVER

Committed to launch open offer: Adanis

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AMID delay in its effort to takeover media outlet NDTV, Adani Group on Wednesday wrote to the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) re-affirming its commitment to completing the open offer process.

The open offer by Adanis to acquire additional 26% stake, after a hostile and now challenged acquisition of 29.18% stake in New Delhi Television (NDTV), was scheduled to open this Monday but got delayed as the requisite regulatory approvals for the offer is yet to arrive.

"While the underlying transaction has not been consummated due to the stance being taken by RRPR (the promoter of NDTV), VCPL is committed to its vision and intends to proceed with the open offer in accordance with the provisions of the SEBI (substantial acquisition of shares and takeover) Regulations, 2011 (SEBI (SAST) Regulations), which require the open offer be completed regardless of whether the underlying transaction has been consummated," Adani Enterprises said in its letter to SEBI. Adanis on August 23 had announced buying Vishvapradhan Commercial Private Limited (VCPL) for ₹114 crore. VCPL owns warrants of NDTV shareholding firm - RRPR - and has asked the media outlet to convert those warrants into shares amounting to 99.5% of RRPR, translating to 29% stake in the media outlet.

The Roys (promoters of NDTV - Prannoy Roy and Radhika Roy), however, have raised multiple technicalities and said Sebi and Tax Department approvals are needed in converting the warrants to equities. The two parties - Adani and Roys - have remained firm and have no signs of conceding to the other party.

CCI levies ₹392 cr penalty on MakeMyTrip, OYO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Competition Commission of India (CCI) has levied a penalty of ₹223.5 crore on MakeMyTrip India-Ibibo (MMT-Go) for abuse of its dominant position in online travel booking space and entering into an anti-competitive tie-up with OYO, a low-cost hotel chain group.

The competition watchdog has also levied ₹169 crore penalty on OYO.

Apart from the penalty, the CCI also directed MMT-Go to modify its agreement with hotels to remove the price and room availability parity obligations with respect to other online travel portals. The CCI had initiated investigation against the two – MMT-Go and OYO – following separate complaints filed by the Federation of Hotel & Restaurant Associations of India (FHRAI), a representative body of the hospitality industry in India, and two budget hotel brands FabHotels and Treebo Hotels.

The complainant had alleged MMT-Go had imposed price parity in its agreement with hotel partners, whereby the hotel partners were not allowed to sell their rooms at any other online travel portals or on its own portal at a price below which it is being offered on MMT-Go's platform.

Though MMT-Go could change the prices at its discretion.

The hotel owners had also alleged MMT-Go for indulging in predatory pricing by offering hotel rooms at less than the average room rate.

According to the complaint, MakeMyTrip was offering deep discounts to customers, forcing out smaller travel portals.

MMT-Go is said to be charging exorbitant commission in the range of 22-40% from hotels. It was also said in the complaint that Treebo and FabHotels were denied market access because of their removal from MMT-Go as they refused to pay exorbitant commission.

MMT-Go and OYO allegedly entered confidential pacts wherein MMT-Go had agreed to give preferential treatment to OYO. An MMT-GO spokesperson said the firm anticipates negative impacts of the order on the level of competition and growth of the ecommerce market in India.

The firm hinted at moving to the NCLAT against the CCI order. An OYO spokesperson told this newspaper they are reviewing the order in detail.

Meanwhile, FHRAI executive panel member Pradeep Shetty has said this is by far one of the biggest wins for the hospitality industry against the dominance of the aggregators.

'Investments in Web3 to cross $1 trillion in 10 yrs'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

WITH over 320 million active users worldwide, the cryptocurrency surge globally has set stage for accelerated Web3 adoption, says a latest report.

Nasscom on Wednesday released a study with Hashed Emergent on The India Web3 Startup Landscape, on the sidelines of the Nasscom Product Conclave held in Bengaluru.

Web3 incorporates concepts such as metaverse, blockchains and non-fungible tokens (NFTs). Interest in Web3 is being led by decentralised finance (DeFi) and NFTs. Cryptocurrency trading is a subset of blockchain-based solutions.

The focus on Web3 grew rapidly in India in 2015-17 with the launch of Ethereum, but grew phenomenally in 2020-21 after the national cryptocurrency ban was lifted. The report says the country's Web3 start-ups have focused less on purely speculative cryptocurrency trading, instead, they are focusing on building diverse Web3 solutions across all major application areas. Currently, only 29% of current solutions include cryptocurrency token trading. As per the report, Web3 start-ups in India have grown to over 450 in the last two years, and they have raised $1.3 billion investments till Q12022, and is expected to cross $1 trillion in the next 10 years.

Web3 has produced four unicorns so far and between 2021 and 2022 alone, the country registered over 170 new Web3 start-ups,over 50% CAGR growth since 2015. Globally, Venture capital funding in the blockchain and cryptocurrency market in 2021 stood at $30.5 billion, and there has been 15x growth in VC funding for crypto and blockchain start-ups since 2015. "Investments in Indian Web3 and Web 2.5 start-ups have also soared.

Vodafone Idea plans to raise funds via convertible debenture issuance

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

VODAFONE IDEA (ViL), India's third-largest telecom operator, is planning to raise funds via issuance convertible debentures.

The loss-making telco, without divulging any details about the quantum of fundraise, said it will put up this proposal in a next board meeting on October 21, 2022.

The company desperately needs funds to invest for its 5G infrastructure and compete with its cash rich Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel. The telco has been trying to raise funds for the past two years but failed to woo any investor so far.

"We wish to inform you that a meeting of the board of directors of the company is scheduled to be held on October 21, 2022, inter-alia, to consider and evaluate a proposal for issuance of debenture securities convertible into equity shares on a preferential/private placement basis to a vendor," Vodafone Idea said in its exchange filing.

A convertible debenture is a long-term debt under which the debentures can be converted into equity after a specific period. Usually, there is no collateral that backs up the debt. Meanwhile, its competitors Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel have already started their 5G services in many cities; Vodafone Idea is yet to give its 5G timeline. Aditya Birla Group Chairman Kumar Mangalam Birla, while speaking at the launch of 5G services in the country said Vodafone would start 5G roll-out soon.

"We will soon begin the 5G roll-out journey. We will leverage our strong presence in rural India, our enterprise customers, our tech partners, and global experience of Vodafone Group for progressively rolling out our 5G network and services in the coming period," said Birla.

In the last quarter, Vodafone Idea reported total debt of ₹1.98 lakh crore. The company reportedly owes ₹7,000 crore of Indus Tower, and it is pressuring the telco to clear its dues. There is also no clarity from the government side when it is going to convert its spectrum dues into equity.

VIL had opted for converting government dues into equity, after which the government will hold nearly 33% in the company. Meanwhile, the telco continued to lose its subscribers, in August 2022 it lost 19.6 lakh subscribers to its rivals.

Nestle India reports 8% rise in Q3 net profit at ₹668 crore, enters D2C space

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

NESTLE INDIA, which follows the January-December financial year, on Wednesday, posted an 8% increase in its Q3 net profit at ₹668 crore.

Its net profit in the same quarter last year was ₹617 crore. It surpassed street estimates, and its total sales in Q3 stood at ₹4,567 crore. The company's earnings per share was at ₹69.3.

Its total expenses in the third quarter increased 20% to ₹3,715 crore from ₹3,082 crore in the year-ago period.

The company's ecommerce channel showed strong acceleration with growth being largely fuelled by new, emerging formats such as quick commerce and click & mortar and contributed 7.2% to the quarterly sales.

In August this year, the company had entered into a business transfer agreement for the acquisition of the Pet Food Business from Purina Petcare India. The Board of Directors has approved the acquisition.

The company has also declared a second interim dividend of ₹120 per equity share, amounting to ₹1,157 crore, which will be paid on and from November 16, 2022. This is in addition to the first interim dividend of ₹25 per equity share paid on 6 May 2022, it said in an exchange filing.

The FMCG company on Wednesday also announced its foray into the direct-to-consumer (D2C) space with the launch of 'MyNestle'. This platform will be launched in Delhi-NCR, and will expand to other parts of the country. The company, which owns brands such as Maggi and Nescafe, will offer curated product bundles, personalised gifting, subscriptions and discounts, among others. With this launch, the company has joined other players such as Hindustan Unilever, Emami and ITC in the D2C space.

Ultratech reports 42% decline in Q2FY23 profit

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ADITYA BIRLA GROUP company UltraTech Cement on Wednesday reported a 42% decline in its consolidated net profit at ₹759 crore for the quarter ended September 30, 2022 (Q2FY23) from ₹1,310 crore in the year-ago period (Q2FY22).

The company's profit sequentially was down 52% from ₹1,582 crore in the April-June period.

Consolidated revenue for the country's largest cement manufacturer in Q2FY23 grew by 16% to ₹13,893 crore as against ₹12,017 crore in the year-ago quarter. Compared to the previous quarter, the revenue fell 8%.

Like other cement manufacturers, Ultratech also witnessed a sharp rise in its expenses, with the energy cost increasing by 58% and raw material cost rising 18% YoY during the quarter under review.

"The second quarter is traditionally a weak one for the cement sector, with lower demand as construction activity slows down on account of the monsoons. Demand was low during July and August 2022, showing some sign of revival in September, 2022," said Ultratech in a statement.

During the quarter, the firm commissioned 1.3 mtpa brownfield capacity at Dalla, Uttar Pradesh, taking the total capacity in India to 115.85 mtpa and 121.25 mtpa globally.

In the second half of this year, Ultratech will commission another 15.4 mtpa of greenfield / brownfield expansion and start the next financial year with a capacity of 131.25 mtpa in India.

LTTS targets $1.5 billion revenue run rate by FY25

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

PURE-PLAY engineering services company L&T Technology Services (LTTS), which clocked $1 billion annualised revenue run rate in Q2 FY23, is now targeting $1.5 billion by FY25.

"I am reconfirming that $1.5 billion in FY25 as a quarterly run rate is confirmed, and we will work towards that," Amit Chadha, CEO & Managing Director, L&T Technology Services, told this newspaper. The company has posted a 23% YoY growth in Q2 net profit to ₹282 crore, and has won a $60 million plus deal and a deal with TCV (total contract value) of $10 million during the quarter. Talking about the demand environment, Chadha said that they are seeing three kinds of demand patterns emerging in the world in the last few months. "EV energy sources are being changed, and second is absenteeism in the workforce is there, and therefore, factories are getting more automated, and finally, we are definitely seeing localised supply chains being built," he said.

He added that these three things are giving them the confidence that the company's three bets-Electric Autonomous Connected Vehicles (EACV), sustainability and digital manufacturing- will continue to deliver.

Portugal forward Diogo Jota will also miss the World Cup because of the injury he sustained while playing for Liverpool against Manchester City.

CLIMATE CHANGE: NEW FOOTPRINT IN THE SPORT

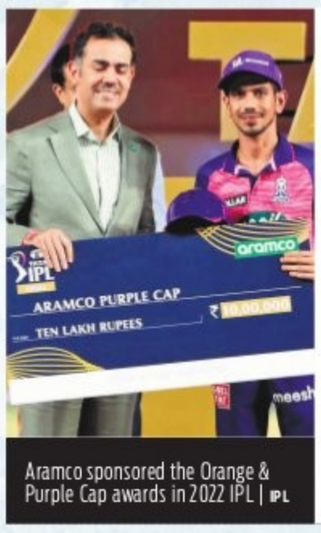
ON OCTOBER 14, THE INTERNATIONAL CRICKET COUNCIL (ICC) ANNOUNCED A PARTNERSHIP WITH SAUDI OIL GIANT, ARAMCO. IN THE SUCCEEDING DAYS, IT WAS REPORTED THAT AUSTRALIA TEST CAPTAIN, PAT CUMMINS, RAISED 'ETHICAL OBJECTIONS' ABOUT THE SIDE'S CONTRACT WITH ALINTA ENERGY. HERE'S AN FAQ ON THE TWO ISSUES AND HOW THE INDIAN PREMIER LEAGUE (IPL) IS INVOLVED.

FIRSTLY, EXPLAIN THE PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN ARAMCO AND ICC

Last Friday, the world cricket body, via a press release said: "The International Cricket Council (ICC), today announced a global partnership with Aramco, one of the world's leading integrated energy and chemicals companies. The partnership will include Aramco sponsorship of all major men's and women's ICC events scheduled until the end of 2023, including the ICC Men's T20 World Cup 2022 in Australia, the ICC Women's T20 World Cup in South Africa, the ICC World Test Championship Final in the UK, and the ICC Men's Cricket World Cup 2023 in India. The partnership is rooted in both organisation's drive for excellence, and Aramco has been granted naming rights for ICC Player of the Match awards, which celebrate elite performances throughout each event."

ISN'T THAT GOOD?

It gives the ICC more money. However, a few people have questioned the ICC on why they have aligned themselves with an oil company at a time when there is greater and more urgent focus on climate change. Considering cricket is directly affected by climate change, people are questioning the deal. There are also legitimate questions to be asked about Saudi Arabia's human rights record. It's why people are uncomfortable about this deal. That climate change could be felt at the World Cup itself as the La Lina weather event could potentially ruin multiple matches over the next few days: New Zealand vs Australia (Saturday), India vs Pakistan (Sunday). Other matches too face the prospect of no result.



Aramco sponsored the Orange & Purple Cap awards in 2022 IPL | IPL

OKAY, WHERE IS PAT CUMMINS INVOLVED IN ALL OF THIS?

The known climate activist, who is part of a group (Cricket for Climate), told SMH: "I've got my own personal views so when it comes to personal sponsorships there are some companies I wouldn't want to align with. When we're getting money, whether it's programs for junior cricket, grassroots, things for fans around Australia, I feel a real responsibility that with that, we're doing on balance what is the right thing." In the same piece, SMH wrote that Alinta's parent company, "Pioneer Sail Holdings has been listed as one of Australia's highest carbon emitters". As a result of Cummins' reservations about energy companies, he made it clear that he wouldn't take part in any advertising around the company.

HOW HAVE CUMMINS' TEAMMATES REACTED?

On Wednesday, leg-spinner Adam Zampa threw his weight behind the pacer. "I've obviously got some personal views about some sponsors that we've got at the moment, but I think the fact that Pat has started that conversation is great," he was quoted as saying by news.com.au. "I think there has got to be a collaborative approach between the players and CA and sponsors. The information is there, we can all make slight changes to improve how we view climate change."

DID ZAMPA AND CUMMINS SPEAK ABOUT THE ICC DEAL WITH ARAMCO?

Yes. But both didn't take a stance on the issue. Zampa said: "We don't live in a perfect world. The fact that there is some conversation starting already, it's going to be a steep learning curve for everyone. Hopefully, I get the man of the match award at some stage though." Cummins said: "It's obviously far away from the decisions us players make. It's an ICC decision. The players are fairly arms reach away from their decision-making. It's fine."

HAVE THE ICC REACTED TO THE CRITICISM SURROUNDING THE DEAL?

Not yet. However, the Australian Associated Press (AAP) have written that the ICC will not sanction players if they opt to skip the player of the match award.

Chennai spin in Karthik's tale

Tamil Nadu-born UAE leg-spinner is turning heads in Australia after taking the first hat-trick of the 2022 T20 WC

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

THERE is plenty of Chennai in Karthik Meiyappan. To start with, he is a Chennai Super Kings fan like million others; is a diehard follower of actor Thalapathi Vijay; loves mother's dosa over everything else for breakfast; likes the beach; his favourite pastime is watching Tamil movies; played chess at age-group level; and more importantly plays cricket and his leg-spin is already the talk of the ongoing T20 World Cup in Australia.

Despite all the Chennai connection, it is Dubai that he calls as his home. From the time he moved to Dubai after his father Meiyappan received a job offer, the Emirate has embraced him with open arms. From playing club level cricket to making it to the Under-19 United Arab Emirates side for the 2020 ICC Under-19 World Cup in South Africa, on Tuesday, the 22-year-old grabbed a hat-trick at the ongoing T20 World Cup against Sri Lanka. Although UAE couldn't go on to win the match, and are facing early exit, Karthik has already made heads turn.

It has been a remarkable journey for Karthik, whose first love was chess. Growing up in Coimbatore, he won top prizes in district-level events and his life centred around the 64-squares. According to Meiyappan, more than cricket it was tennis that Karthik preferred while playing outdoors.

"Actually, I picked up cricket only when we moved to Dubai," Karthik says. "I didn't have any opponents or friends to play chess with and since my father and my uncle had played a fair bit of cricket at university level, cricket just happened to me. I started playing club cricket, then gradually moved up the ranks and by 16 was in the UAE U-19 team. And now, here I am, playing in the World Cup," Karthi told this daily.

In 2014, when Meiyappan found cricket to be Karthik's calling, he didn't think twice before sending his son to Chennai. This was the phase where Karthik, who began to bowl leg-spin by then, got a month to hone his skills under former India cricketers Laxman Sivaramakrishnan and M Venkataramana at a camp organized by Sports Mechanics that provides data support to Team India. If cricketing skills were improved at the camp, according to Meiyappan, Karthik would spend an equally good amount of time at former India trainer Ramji Srinivasan's fitness studio, which was then called Quantum Leap (Sports Dynamix).

"I don't know how and why I started bowling leg-spin, maybe because my father too was a leg-spinner. But once I decided to pursue cricket as a profession, I wanted to give everything to it. To be honest, I even thought about coming back to Chennai and playing here, but my father made me believe, I've a better chance here (in Dubai). After the age-group level, my plan was to come to Chennnai and attend college and play cricket. But I guess, my father's decision to hold me back is vindicated," Karthik says.

That Karthik was looking to move to Chennai to pursue cricket professionally isn't surprising. It is common among those settled in UAE, where good players prefer moving to their country of birth or elsewhere in search of regular opportunities. "I've had friends who I grew up playing age-group cricket with move to Tamil Nadu and feature in the TNPL, while others have gone to some other country. Even though I had an offer to play for Sussex (English county), with cricket becoming more and more attractive in the UAE, we as a family decided to stay here and pursue the sport. It is growing so much and every year, the number of international cricket we play is increasing so much that we don't even get the time to feature in our domestic league," Karthik says.

Karthik also benefitted when UAE became the home of cricket during the pandemic years. With the IPL bandwagon shifting to the UAE, in 2020, he spent the entire season with Royal Challengers Bangalore as net bowler. And in 2021, when UAE hosted the second-half of the IPL, Karthik got a chance to be with Chennai Super Kings.

"I came down during my off-season to work with Venkataramana Sir. The past couple of years I've grown immensely as a spinner. After the U-19 World Cup, to be able to spend time with RCB in the IPL as a net bowler was such an enriching experience. Not very often would you get a chance to rub shoulders with the best and learn how they prepare for a match. And then in 2021, I got a chance to be with the Super Kings, which was again a thoroughly enjoyable experience. Had a chance to meet and speak with (MS) Dhoni, who was very accommodative and ready to share, which in itself was great for a youngster like me."

Before the T20 World Cup, Karthik played a key role in UAE's Qualifier rounds. And after sealing the team's World Cup spot, on the insistence of UAE coach Robin Singh, Karthik came to Chennai again to work with Venkataramana for a month with Mylapore Recreation Club, a First Division team. "Robin sir wanted me to work during the off-season, and I thought it would be beneficial before the T20 World Cup. Just to make little changes here and there and to get going was nice. And more importantly, I would always jump at every possible opportunity to be in Chennai. My extended family and grandparents are here and I love the city. In fact, during the stay I also got a chance to experience Chennai's FDFS culture with the release of Beast," he says.

Windies, Ireland wins keep Group B open

AGENCIES @ Hobart

WEST Indies kept alive their hopes of reaching the Super 12 of the ICC T20 World Cup with a comfortable 31-run win over Zimbabwe in Hobart on Wednesday.

In a must-win game, West Indies posted 153/7 after opting to bat first at the Bellerive Oval. The total proved to be enough as the West Indies packed off Zimbabwe for 122 in 18.2 overs, with pacer Alzarri Joseph picking for four wickets for 16 runs in his full quota of four overs.

In their chase, Zimbabwe were off to a flyer but lost their way after scoring 55 runs in the six powerplay overs, losing wickets at regular intervals. Following the West Indies' victory, Group B has become wide open, with all four teams currently on two points each.

Meanwhile, earlier in the day, Curtis Campher struck his maiden half-century (72 n.o) after a fine show with the ball (2/9) to guide Ireland to a six-wicket win over Scotland and keep their T20 World Cup Super 12 stage hopes alive here on Wednesday. Campher bailed out Ireland from a spot of bother while chasing a challenging 177-run target and took his side home with one over to spare in the first round Group B match.

Chameera, Topley out of T20 WC

Pacer Kasun Rajitha has replaced an injured Dushmantha Chameera in the Sri Lankan squad for the T20 World Cup, with the ICC approving three other replacements. The Event Technical Committee of the tournament has approved the four replacements. Rajitha has replaced fast bowler Chameera who was ruled out due to a torn left calf muscle. In addition, Danushka Gunathilaka who has a left hamstring tear will be replaced by travelling reserve Ashen Bandara. England's Tymal Mills, who is already in Australia, came in for Reece Topley who has an injured left ankle. In the United Arab Emirates squad, the travelling reserve Fahad Nawaz has replaced Zawar Farid who has fractured his left foot.

Mirabai to train in US

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

THE qualification cycle for the Indian weightlifters for the 2024 Paris Olympics will begin with the World Championships scheduled in Bogota, Colombia from December 5 to 16. As many as four Indian lifters, including the 2020 Tokyo Olympics silver medallist Mirabai Chanu, will compete in the event with an eye on the Olympic quota.

Ahead of the Worlds, these lifters have planned to prepare at St Louis, USA. A proposal in this regard has been sent to the Sports Authority of India (SAI) for approval. Apart from Mirabai (49kg), other Indians, who will participate in the Worlds, are Bindyarani Devi (59kg), Achinta Sheuli (73kg) and Gurdeep Singh (+109kg).

"As per the proposal, the lifters will leave for the USA on November 12 and train there till November 30. The athletes will then directly head to Colombia for participation in the Worlds," head coach Vijay Sharma, who will accompany the lifters to the USA, told this daily. Elaborating further on sending only four lifters for the event, Sharma said, "A few lifters including Sanket Sargar and Jeremy Lalrinnunga are still undergoing rehabilitation that's why the Indian Weightlifting Federation (IWLF) has decided to send four athletes for the Worlds."

Earlier, the plan was to send the Indian contingent to Colombia so that the lifters can get acclimatised ahead of the Olympic qualifying event. However, the response of the host federation was not positive. "We requested the Colombian federation but didn't get a favourable reply. We wanted our lifters to train in the same time zone. But once Colombia didn't accept our request, we chose the USA which also has the same time zone, fulfilling our objective," Sahdev Yadav, the IWLF president, told this daily.

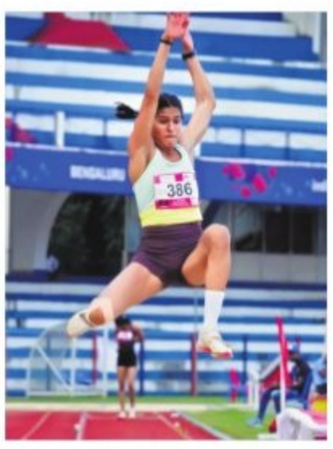
After season's best effort, Shaili's coach targets big 2023

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

SHAILI Singh and her team were not satisfied with her performance during the inter-state Nationals in Chennai. That was in July and her best jump was 6.26m in the final. Not a flattering mark considering she had jumped a wind-aided 6.59m (silver effort at 2021 World U20 Athletics Championships) and 6.48m at inter-state nationals in Patiala last year. Yet, it was some kind of a consolation because she was coming from a long injury lay-off.

On Wednesday, when she registered a mark 6.41m at the season-ending National Open Athletics Championships in Bengaluru, there was relief in her camp. She managed it in her last jump. Shaili's coach Robert Bobby George is 'kind of satisfied'. The speed is back. Going forward, a lot needs to be done. In short, training and more training for the next season.

The coach feels that she could have done better. "She was in the range of 6.50m as she was jumping far behind the board," said the coach. "She could have crossed the 6.50m but somehow she did not get the rhythm right. She was jumping some 20cm behind the white board."



Shaili Singh during her event

Shaili has now shifted most of her training to the Anju Bobby George Academy. According to Robert, what seems heartening is her attitude. "I think she has overcome that fear of getting hurt which is a very good thing," he says comparing her jumps in July at Chennai. "She has been training well. She has got her speed back. End of the season she has cleared the distance and won gold is quite satisfying. One season zero means trouble. One has to start all over again next season. She may jump in junior nationals in Guwahati next month. Then we will start build-up for next year."

Next season will be crucial as the 18-year-old seeks to qualify for the World Championships and 2024 Olympics. "Our build-up will begin from December after a break," Robert says. "She has not gone home entire season this year and we will have a short break and assemble for training in December. She should be ready in June-July and we will try and qualify for the World Championships. End of August will be the World Championships and that's our target."

IS SOMETHING FISHY WITH EXPANSION OF UNIVERSE?

Disparity exists between the 2 ways of estimating rate of expansion

Debris field from a Type Ia supernova, which exploded approx 4,500 years ago | AFP

SPACE

PARIS: The most precise measurements ever made of the universe's composition and how fast it is expanding suggest "something is fishy" in our understanding of the cosmos, the astrophysicist who led the research said on Wednesday.

The comprehensive new study published in The Astrophysical Journal further confirmed that there is a significant discrepancy between two different ways to estimate the speed at which the universe is expanding.

The study said that around five per cent of the universe is made up of what we might think of as normal matter, while the rest is dark matter and dark energy—both of which remain shrouded in mystery. Dark energy, a hypothetical force causing the universe to expand at an ever-increasing rate, makes up 66.2% of the cosmos, according to the study published in The Astrophysical Journal. The remaining 33.8% is a combination of matter and dark matter, which is also unknown but may consist of some as-yet-undiscovered subatomic particle.

To arrive at the most precise limits yet put on what our universe is made up of, an international team of researchers observed exploding stars called supernovae. They analysed the light from 1,550 different supernovae, ranging from close to home to more than 10 billion lights year away, back when the universe was a quarter of its current age. "We can compare them and see how the universe is behaving and evolving over time," said Dillon Brout of the Harvard–Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics and lead author of the study, called Pantheon+. The study updated the data from the Pantheon project a couple of years ago, stamping out possible problems and nailing down more precise calculations.

"This latest Pantheon+ analysis is a culmination of more than two decades' worth of diligent efforts by observers and theorists worldwide in deciphering the essence of the cosmos," US astrophysicist Adam Reiss, 2011's physics Nobel winner, said in a statement.

It was by observing supernovae back in the late 1990s that Reiss and other scientists discovered the universe was not only expanding but also doing so at an increasing rate, meaning galaxies are racing away from each other.

Pantheon+ also pooled data with the SH0ES supernova collaboration. They estimated the universe is currently expanding 73.4 km a second every megaparsec, or 3.26 million light years. That works out to be around 255,000 km per hour, according to a Harvard-Smithsonian statement.

But there's a problem. Measuring cosmic microwave background radiation, which can look much farther back in time to around 300,000 years after the Big Bang, suggests the universe is expanding at a significantly slower rate —around 67 km per megaparsec.

This discrepancy has been called the Hubble tension, after US astronomer Edwin Hubble.

The Pantheon+ results have raised the certainty of the Hubble tension above what is known as the five sigma threshold, which means the discrepancy "can no longer be attributed to luck", Brout said.

DISCREPANCY THEORY

Some possible, unverified theories for the discrepancy could include another kind of dark energy in the very early universe, primordial magnetic fields, or even that the Milky Way sits in a cosmic void, potentially slowing it down

SURFERS, MINERS FIGHT OVER SOUTH AFRICA'S WHITE BEACHES

To those who live here, it's like a little piece of heaven, boasting pink flamingos, white beaches and blue ocean waters

SA'S WEST COAST: BATTLEGROUND

Yet this stretch of South Africa's west coast has also become a battleground, pitching mining firms against activists fearful that one of nature's last wild treasures is being bulldozed away

EXTRACTING VALUABLE MINERALS

Diamonds, zircon and other minerals have long been extracted in the sandy coastline near the Olifants river, which flows into the Atlantic about 300 kilometres north of Cape Town

ANGER SLOWLY RISING

But plans to expand the mining have angered surfers, animal lovers and residents in this remote, sparsely populated region—and they are pushing back with lawsuits and petitions

It's one of the last frontiers of the South African coastline where you can go and sort of lose yourself

—Surfer Mike Schlebach, 45, co-founder of a green campaign group, Protect the West Coast

SCARING OFF FISH AND TOURISTS

But locals contend the excavation, in which sand is extracted from beaches and the seabed and sifted for valuable minerals, is scaring off fish and tourists alike—and shrinking rather than broadening employment opportunities

SLOWLY ERASING THE PRISTINE BEACHES

In Doringbaai, a small town a few kilometres south of the Olifants estuary, a once-pristine beach where people used to walk their dogs and enjoy the sunset to the sound of crashing waves is now being torn up by heavy machinery. But mine owner Trans Hex said all its environmental papers are in order, adding it has held mining rights for the area since 1991

If we are going to have sea mining, beach mining, land mining... where is the public going to have access to the coast?

—Suzanne Du Plessis, 61, local resident and campaigner

MINING

AN EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Mining companies say they bring much-needed jobs to the area and insist they abide by environmental rules

A SMALL VICTORY

Campaigners secured a small victory, when the operator of a mineral sand mine that had gained government approval to expand its activities to 10 more beaches, committed to environmental checks

RETHINKING THE STRATEGY

With more mining permits waiting for approval, Schlebach hoped the government would rethink its strategy

PROJECTS THREATENING THE BEACH

CHOLERA'S TWO DOSE REGIMEN SUSPENDED

HEALTH

GENEVA: A shortage of cholera vaccines has forced a temporary shift to a one-dose strategy from the usual two in campaigns to fight a swelling number of outbreaks, the World Health Organization said on Wednesday.

The UN health agency said the "strained global supply of cholera vaccines" had pushed the International Coordinating Group (ICG), which manages emergency supplies of vaccines, to suspend the two-dose regimen. "The pivot in strategy will allow for the doses to be used in more countries, at a time of unprecedented rise in cholera outbreaks worldwide," WHO said. It pointed out that 29 countries had reported cholera cases so far this year, including Haiti, Syria and Malawi.

That compares with the fewer than 20 nations that reported such outbreaks in total over the previous five years.

"The global trend is moving towards more numerous, more widespread and more severe outbreaks, due to floods, droughts, conflict, population movements and other factors that limit access to clean water and raise the risk of cholera outbreaks," it said.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Infants die due to poor care

health care: A damning report on Wednesday found that 45 babies who died at two British hospitals might have survived if their care had been up to standard, in the latest UK maternity scandal. Dr Bill Kirkup who led the official independent investigation described his findings as "stark" and "shocking". "Had care been given to the nationally recognised standards, the outcome could have been different... in 45 of the 65 baby deaths" examined, he said. Kirkup said there had been "failures of professionalism, of compassion and of kindness" at the hospitals run by East Kent Hospitals.

Sparkling fish, murky methods: the global aquarium trade

MARINE LIFE

LES: After diving into the warm sea off the coast of northern Bali, Indonesia, Made Partiana hovers above a bed of coral, holding his breath and scanning for flashes of colour and movement.

Hours later, exhausted, he returns to a rocky beach, towing plastic bags filled with his darting, exquisite quarry: tropical fish of all shades and shapes.

Millions of saltwater fish like these are caught in Indonesia and other countries every year to fill ever more elaborate aquariums in living rooms, waiting rooms and restaurants around the world with vivid, otherworldly life.

"It's just so much fun to just watch the antics between different varieties of fish," said Jack Siravo, a Rhode Island fish enthusiast who began building aquariums after an accident paralyzed him and now has four saltwater tanks.

He calls the fish "an endless source of fascination." But the long journey from places like Bali to places like Rhode Island is perilous for the fish and for the reefs they come from. Some are captured using squirts of cyanide to stun them. Many die along the way. And even when they are captured carefully, by people like Partiana, experts say the global demand for these fish is contributing to the degradation of delicate coral ecosystems, especially in major export countries such as Indonesia and the Philippines.

There have been efforts to reduce some of the most destructive practices, such as cyanide fishing. But the trade is extraordinarily difficult to regulate and track as it stretches from small-scale fishermen in tropical seaside villages through local middlemen, export warehouses, international trade hubs and finally to pet stores in the US, China, Europe and elsewhere.

"There's no enforcement, no management, no data collection," said Gayatri Reksodihardjo-Lilley, founder of LINI, a Bali-based nonprofit for the conservation and management of coastal marine resources.

That leaves enthusiasts like Siravo in the dark. "Consumers often don't know where their fish are coming from, and they don't know how they are collected," said Andrew Rhyne, a marine biology professor at Roger Williams University in Rhode Island.

Most ornamental saltwater fish species are caught in the wild because breeding them in captivity can be expensive and often impossible. The conditions they need to reproduce are extremely particular and poorly understood.

'I intend to serve people, but I can do so with great joy only with a free mind'

Having constantly stated that his only intention is to look at welfare of his people irrespective of any caste, creed or religion, Yusuf Sharif, popularly known as KGF Babu, states that he feels betrayed by certain people who wish to curtail his intentions of elevating lives.

Babu had earlier mentioned too that he has been providing Rs 5000 each to around 50,000 homes in Chickpet assembly constituency, and he also promised to build 3,000 homes given all permissions are provided, but now he feels distressed at the lack of support he should have ideally got for his charitable endeavours. "I have prepared 16,000 cheques each of Rs 500 and all these cheques are ready for distribution. But I am not getting the kind of encouragement from the wider strata, especially my own political party due to certain individuals. Hence, I had to painfully stop distribution," he says.

But he adds that he will contest the assembly elections from Chickpet constituency. "If I am given a ticket, I will contest as a Congress candidate. If not, even then I will contest," he affirms and adds that people believe him and their faith on him is supreme.

"I promise to my people, workers and admirers that I will carry out all developmental activities in Chickpet constituency as promised. I seek the blessings of the people. I will not go to any place other than Chickpet," he says.

CROWNING MOMENT

City-based entrepreneur Sandhya Jain, who was crowned Mrs Asia Universe 2022 at the Woman of the Universe – Mrs Universe banner pageant in Bulgaria, speaks to CE about her experience

MONIKA MONALISA

IT was a proud moment for the country when city-based Sandhya Jain was crowned Mrs Asia Universe 2022. Sandhya represented India at the Woman of the Universe – Mrs Universe banner pageant held at Sofia in Bulgaria between October 10 and 15. Jain, who originally hails from Bengaluru, represented India and cleared several rounds to finally claim the crown.

Though the title of Mrs Universe was won by Mrs Peru, the other two bigger sub-titles were Mrs Asia Universe and Mrs Europe Universe, and Sandhya claimed the former. Recalling the winning moment, she says the moment was surreal. "Representing India and winning the crown for it feels like a dream come true," says Sandhya. "It was an incredible experience, especially with beautifully talented ladies from across the world representing their countries and culture. Everyone brought their culture on the stage and interacting with each other turned out not just interesting but also knowledgeable," Sandhya added.

The win didn't come to the entrepreneur easily. She had to compete with over 50 beauty pageant winners across the world in several rounds to claim the crown. Some of the rounds included the discussion on non-violence and the national costume round, among others. "In one of the rounds, the topic of discussion was non-violence and who better than us to discuss the topic? India as a country has been a flagbearer of non-violence," says Sandhya, adding that while she went for the pageant hoping for the best, she tried to learn from the experience than let it weigh on her.

Sandhya made all heads turn during the national costume round, where she represented India's national bird by donning a multi-coloured saree along with a wing made of peacock feathers. "It also felt great when we sat down to discuss our culture and other pageant winners were so appreciative of our country. It felt good because you are the face of the country at that particular point in time," says Sandhya.

Now back home in the city, Jain says she is going to reminisce all the memories. However, she is 'extremely happy' to be back home. "The love and reception that I have received have been incredible," says an excited Sandhya.

QUICK FIX

CHEESE POTATO BALLS

Contributed by Surkhab Khan, Lucknow

INGREDIENTS

- Potato (Boiled, peeled and mashed): 5
- Onion: 1
- Carom seeds: 1/4 tsp
- Red chilli powder: 1 tsp
- Red chilli flakes: 1/4 tsp
- Corn flour: 3 tsp
- Pepper powder: 1/4 tsp
- Tomato ketchup: 1 tsp
- Red chilli sauce: 1 tsp
- Bread crumbs: 2 cups
- Salt: to taste
- Oil for deep frying
- Cheese: 10 small cubes

METHOD

- Heat two teaspoons of oil in a wok or pan and sauté carom seeds. When it crackles add onion and fry until it is light golden brown. Add red chilli powder. Then add mashed potatoes and mix well. Switch off the flame.
- Take a small portion of the mixture and flatten it with your hands. Put the cheese cube in the center and roll into a ball. Do this with the rest of the mixture.
- Mix corn flour with 5 teaspoons of water and dip the ball in this batter then put it in bread crumbs mixture.
- Heat oil in a wok and deep fry the balls till it turns golden brown in colour.
- Cheese potato balls are ready. Serve hot with sauce.

FIT BIT

BHUDI MUDRA
(THE SEAL OF MENTAL CLARITY)

Bhudi Mudra is used to restore or maintain fluid balance in the body. It is used to treat dry eyed, pyelitis, dry mouth and disorders of the kidney or bladder. In addition, it can help to improve concentration and provide mental clarity.

STEPS

- Sit in any comfortable seating posture and place the hands with the palm pointing upwards on the thighs or the knees.
- Meditation postures like Padmasana, Siddhasana, Swastikasana, Vajrasana, etc., are ideal for the practise of mudras.
- Now, close your eyes and take some deep breaths with the awareness of the breathing process.
- Bring the tips of the thumb and the little finger together. The other three fingers remain comfortably extended.
- If the ring, index and middle fingers do not easily stay together, change the hand position so they gently come closer to the seal you've created.
- When you bring the tip of the little finger to the thumb, think of it as water extinguishing fire, or bringing balance to the flames.
- Practising this mudra in seated meditation is an easy way to focus your intentions and clear the mind.
- To gain the most benefits out of this gesture, this mudra can be practised for 15-20 minutes, one to three times a day.

LIMITATIONS

There are no specific limitations for doing this mudra. When doing a mudra practise on its own, place the left hand over your heart center and the right hand over your belly for a grounding moment.

BENEFITS

- It helps to bring forth intuitive energy.
- Since this mudra balances the water element, when there is a lack of water in the body, doing this can help with ailments in the body.
- Develops psychic energy, which brings you closer to divine nature.
- Improves some skin disorders, such as psoriasis and eczema.
- Removes obstacles such as a busy mind.
- Boosts mindfulness.
- Helps in bladder and kidney-related issues.
- Also helps during indigestion, constipation, and other digestive issues.
- Aids in psychic development, psychic abilities, and mental powers.
- Improves mental clarity.
- Addresses disorders related to the blood, such as anaemia.

SLEEP WELL FOR A HEALTHY HEART

DR RAJESH T R

SLEEP is the golden chain that binds health and our bodies together," Thomas Dekker once said.

Did you know that adequate sleep is just as important for good health, as nutrition and exercise? Well, it's true! There are many benefits of adequate sleep. It improves the cognitive functions of the brain resulting in improved productivity and performance. Adequate sleep can improve immune function. It has even been shown that antibody response to vaccines is better with adequate sleep. It increases metabolism and helps control blood sugars and body weight. It improves heart health. It even keeps depression and anxiety away!

How much sleep does one need? It depends on the age, with newborns needing 12 to 18 hrs and adults needing 7 to 9 hrs per day. Short sleep is described as sleep of less than 7 hours duration. However, did you know that humans are the only mammals that willingly deprives themselves of sleep?

Instead of sleeping on time every night, we use this precious time for some activity that should have its own time and not encroach on the period allotted for sleep!

Short sleep has many deleterious effects on one's mind and body health. It has been shown to impair cognitive functions and decision-making skills, affecting one's performance. Short sleep is associated with an increased risk of developing obesity and weight gain. Sleep deprivation may increase your appetite and cause you to eat more calories. In particular, you're more likely to eat foods high in sugar and fat. Short sleep impairs glucose metabolism and reduces insulin sensitivity. Combined with poor eating habits and predisposition for weight gain and obesity, it increases the risk of developing type 2 diabetes mellitus. Short sleep tends to make one very stressed. It affects emotions and results in mood swings, making it difficult to control one's outbursts. It is also linked to depression. Studies have shown it increases sympathetic nervous system activity. All these results in increased heart rate and blood pressure. Short sleep is linked to an increased risk of atherosclerosis, a disease wherein fats deposit in the walls of arteries leading to blockages and obstruction to blood flow. Sleep deprivation also makes one prone to develop harmful habits like smoking.

Obstructive sleep apnoea is a sleep disorder that is characterised by repetitive episodes of shallow or paused breathing during sleep, depriving the body of oxygen. These patients have loud snoring. They don't have restful sleep, are sleepy the next day, and can't focus on daily activities. They tend to fall asleep easily during the day, even in meetings or while driving vehicles! They are prone to developing obesity, diabetes, hypertension and heart diseases.

Sleep deprivation is directly linked to an increased incidence of cardiovascular diseases resulting in heart attacks and strokes. Studies have shown that short sleep is associated with a 13% increased risk of death from heart diseases. In fact, every one-hour reduction in sleep increases the risk by 6%!

In 'SHORT' short sleep has been linked to increased incidence of obesity, diabetes, high blood pressure, atherosclerosis, heart attacks and heart failure!

In India, there is an alarming increase in heart diseases in the young. The disease is much more severe and complications are more, compared to older people. Added to the disease burden, is the loss of productive hours and livelihood. This disturbing trend is mainly because of a deteriorating lifestyle and sleep deprivation is a major part of it.

The mainstay of treatment of these lifestyle diseases is, well, lifestyle modifications. Most likely one would have got advice about diet, weight control, physical exercise, and treatment of diabetes and hypertension, etc. It is equally important to recognise the importance of getting adequate sleep and the role it plays in controlling the other risk factors. If one has short sleep, it has to be acknowledged and active steps have to be taken to correct sleep habits. Only then the steps taken to control the other cardiovascular risk factors will be effective. First, make a sleep schedule and stick to it. Follow the same sleep and wake times.

Avoid interruptions. Get good exercise daily. Avoid heavy meals just before going to bed. Avoid caffeinated drinks and smoking within 4 – 5 hours of your sleep time. Of course, I am not saying smoking is allowed at other times!!

Avoid watching TV in bed. Avoid electronic displays before going to bed. Reduce any stress and anxiety. Meditation is very helpful. You can even change the look and color of your bedroom to help you get good, uninterrupted restful sleep. If you have any symptoms of sleep apnoea, consult a doctor. It is definitely treatable.

Getting enough sleep helps your body repair itself and makes it less vulnerable to lifestyle and heart diseases.

As the Irish proverb goes "A good laugh and a long sleep are the best cures in the doctor's book."

Obesity and an inactive lifestyle reasons for breast cancer: Experts

The medical fraternity across the country has undertaken a campaign to create awareness about the deadly disease as part of the Breast Cancer Awareness observed every October. According to experts, an increasing number of women below 35 years are falling prey to breast cancer in India, mainly because of obesity or leading an inactive lifestyle. Underlining that breast cancer can be prevented, he said the primary measure is to remove the risk factors by improving the lifestyle. The secondary measure for preventing breast cancer is going for screening and tests. The rising incidence of breast cancer in younger women is due to juggling both work and home duties. IANS

BLOOD CANCER MYTHS & FACTS

DR NITI RAIZADA

BLOOD disorders can be collectively grouped as disorders in the blood, bone marrow, and lymphatic system and their uncontrolled growth is referred to as blood cancer. When the body's red blood cells, which have oxygen carrying capacity or white blood cells , which are soldiers and fight germs; or platelet, which help in preventing excess bleeding, are unusual or abnormal, blood cancer develops. All these cells arise as stem cells or progenitor cells in the bone marrow. The normal functioning, growth, and development of these blood cells are disrupted in the marrow and cause cancers include lymphoma, leukemia, myeloma, myeloproliferative neoplasms and myelodysplastic syndromes.

Lymphomas are lymph node cancers and constitute about 60-65% of all blood cancers. Lymphomas are also one of the most treatable cancers and occur in all age groups. Leukemias are cancers of the white blood cells and constitute roughly 20%. Myeloma is a plasma cell neoplasm and constitute 5-10 % of all blood cancers.

MYTH: Leukemia affects only children

FACT: Leukemia is cancer of the white blood cells and is broadly of two types: acute and chronic. The most common childhood leukemia is acute lymphoblastic leukemia (ALL). But ALL can happen in adults as well. Adults can have acute myeloid leukemia, chronic lymphatic leukemia or chronic myeloid leukemia (CML). Some of these respond dramatically to oral therapy as well and thus have launched the era of precision drugs in oncology (Imatinib for CML which is a wonder drug).

MYTH: Blood cancer is caused by/ presents like anemia

FACT: Anemia can be one of the manifestations of cancer. However, often anemia is due to iron deficiency (blood loss or nutritional) or other deficiencies like B12 deficiency in vegetarians or folate deficiency. Blood cancer can present as bleeding manifestations like bruising, infections due to abnormal WBC number or function or anemia. Other symptoms of blood cancer can include fatigue, fever, body pains (bone pains). Myeloma can present with kidney dysfunction or even fractures.

MYTH: Leukemia and blood cancer are the same

FACT: There are three main type of blood cancers: leukemia, lymphoma, and myeloma besides other minor types. Leukemia is a type of cancer that affects all white blood cells and prevent them from performing their primary function of fighting infections and these abnormal cells are also found in blood. This is commonly seen in young children under the age of 15.

Lymphoma is a cancer of the lymphatic system and lymph nodes that mostly affects lymphocytes, a kind of white blood cell. It is typically diagnosed in people between the ages of 15 and 35, as well as those over 50.

Myeloma is cancer that affects the plasma cells, which is a type of white blood cell that produces antibodies to protect the body from infection. The immune system is weakened and prone to infections because of this cancer.

MYTH: It is believed that if one has family history of cancer, then one will decidedly get cancer/blood cancer

FACT: Most individuals with a family history of cancer do not have a higher chance of having cancer, but those with a family history of certain conditions like HBOC (Hereditary Breast Ovarian Cancer) do. They need to get themselves checked to look for possible solutions by genetic counselling and sometimes genetic testing (blood/saliva tests). Certain blood cancers can be related to genetic conditions like Li Fraumeni syndrome and down syndrome causing leukemias besides other conditions. About 4% of blood cancers could have some genetic link.

MYTH: A bone marrow transplant is required for all individuals with blood cancer.

FACT: Not all patients with blood cancer require a transplant. The need of a bone marrow transplant is evaluated individually based on their underlying diagnosis, treatment response, and tumor genetic profile. Patients' response to treatment in cases of acute leukemia has improved thanks to cutting-edge genetic profiling technologies combined with innovative tailored medication.

MYTH: Blood cancer is almost always fatal

FACT: Infact blood cancers are one of the most treatable subsets of cancer and curable in many cases. Treatment success rates are dramatically improving, and patients are living longer than ever before, thanks to the cutting-edge research. There are currently a variety of personalized therapeutic agents that have proved effective in treating blood cancer. These include chemotherapy, radiation, targeted therapy/biologics, bone marrow transplantation (matched-donor/haplo-identical etc) and immunotherapy.

It is strongly encouraged to seek medical help from a skilled medical professional. Early detection of cancer increases the chances of a complete cure.

CINEMA REFLECTS LIFE: DHANANJAY

The actor-producer talks about his new release Head Bush, his role as underworld don MP Jayaraj and why the film is different from the regular gangster story

A SHARADHAA

DHANANJAY has come a long way since his debut with the short film, Jayanagar 4th block. As someone who has seen his fair share of struggles before his breakthrough, he enjoys taking risks with roles and films. He is happy in the space he is currently in and eagerly looking forward to his festival release Head Bush, which also has him doubling as a producer.

"My previous struggles have only helped me to get stronger. The lessons learned from every film have helped me to get here. Today, I'm in a position to make confident decisions in my career. However, at this moment, I am unclear on where I stand. I've learned a lot, and have got more to learn, and more films to do," says Dhananjay on the sidelines of the release on October 21.

Dhananjay's role in Suri's Tagaru was a turning point in his career, and it brought opportunities to work in different languages. He believes his anti-hero role as underworld don, MP Jayaraj will be received warmly like his Daali from Tagaru. "After Tagaru, I took up different roles in Rathnan Prapancha and Badava Rascal. However, I was looking to get back to grey-shade roles like Daali or Tiger Seena in Popcorn Monkey Tiger, and MP Jayaraj in Head Bush felt like a tailor-made character for me," says Dhananjay.

He shared that cinema is both a passion and a business to him." I will play any kind of role that will connect to the audience, as well as get the box office numbers ticking." Head Bush, directed by Shoonya will be his second film as producer after Badava Rascal and his first big-budget film. Asked if it was an accident, he says,"Certain scripts push us to take more responsibilities, and Head Bush was one subject I didn't want to miss out on, so I decided to take it on my shoulders, and produce the film under the banner Daali Pictures and in association-with Somanna Talkies," says Dhananjay, adding, the film, which began on a small scale, but has turned out to be big budget film, with an investment of approximately ₹ 25 crores.

Interestingly, the film distributed by Zee Studios has already reached the safe zone. The film fetched ₹22 crores even before release with its satellite and digital rights. The role of MP Jayaraj was initially offered to Shivarajkumar and later there were speculations that Upendra will be playing a similar character. But Dhananjay was destined to play it. "I'm not aware of Shivanna and Upendra being considered for the role. It was director Shoonya and Roshan Bachchan, from Agni Sreedhar's team who called me for the offer. It is Agni's writing, and his previous works in Aa Dinagalu, and Edegarike that gave me the confidence to invest so much in Head Bush," says Dhananjay, who adds that Agni Sreedhar never limited himself to writing, and got him involved in the process of filmmaking.

Questioned if the period crime drama will be relevant to the audience, he says, "Cinema reflects life, and our film aligns with it. Though it is a story of the past, it is an untold story. The face-off between the police and gangsters has always created curiosity among the audience," he explains.

Dhananjay feels that the inherent politics in Head Bush and the dialogues will be the major attraction in the film. "It is not a regular gangster story. Agni Sreedhar had closely seen the underworld, and his book - My Days in the Underworld - speaks volumes about those empires. His stories are rich in philosophy and entertainment," he says.

Head Bush has music by Charan Raj and artwork by Badal Nanjundaswamy. It stars Payal Rajput, Sruthi Hariharan, Yogi, Ravichandran, Devaraj, Vasishta Simha, Raghu Mukherjee, Balu Nagendra, and Poornachandra Mysuru, in important roles.

"This project wouldn't have been possible without their support. The film brings together interesting actors, who have aced their roles. Head Bush will be a good start for debutant Shoonya and the team. I am sure they will be noticed for their work," he signs off.

It is not a regular gangster story. Agni Sreedhar had closely seen the underworld, and his book - My Days in the Underworld - speaks volumes about those empires. His stories are rich in philosophy and entertainment – Dhananjay, actor

Brad Pitt's Babylon to have a Christmas release

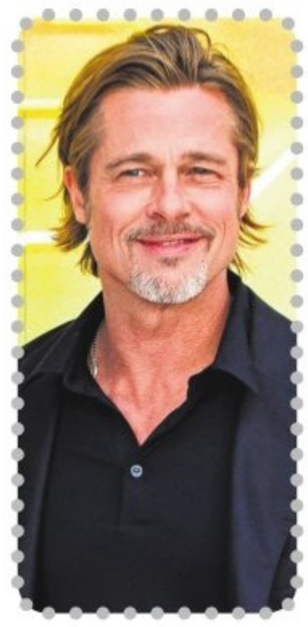
CE FEATURES

BABYLON, the upcoming film starring Brad Pitt and Margot Robbie in the lead roles, will release in time for Christmas on December 23 in the US.

The film is directed by Damien Chazelle. The film also stars Diego Calva, Tobey Maguire, Max Minghella, Spike Jonze, Jean Smart, Flea, Samara Weaving, Olivia Wilde, Jovan Adepo and Li Jun Li. Babylon is a period film that takes place in the late 20s and set against the backdrop of Hollywood's period of transition from silent films to talkies. While Brad Pitt plays a leading actor, Margot Robbie essays an upcoming young actor.

Babylon was scheduled to release in theatres on December 25 in selected theatres, before a nationwide release on January 6. However, it was later rescheduled after Tom Hanks- starrer A Man Called Otto is coming on December 25 before expanding nationwide on January 13.

According to Chazelle, Babylon is inspired by films like Federico Fellini's La Dolce Vita, Robert Altman's Nashville and The Godfather.



Aryan Khan deliberately targeted in drugs case: NCB report

CE FEATURES

ARYAN Khan, son of superstar Shah Rukh Khan, might have been "deliberately targeted" by NCB officers in the Cordelia cruise drugs case. As per ANI, the vigilance department of the Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) recently submitted its report pointing to the irregularities and "suspicious behaviour" on the part of seven to eight officers of the agency. Aryan was arrested in the case last year and was kept in jail for about 22 days.

NCB's vigilance team probing the case on Tuesday submitted its inquiry report in Delhi headquarters and stated that "many shortcomings were found in the investigation."

"The investigation team of NCB has found the role of 7 to 8 NCB officers suspicious in this case. The vigilance team of NCB found in its probe that the case was not investigated properly as Aryan Khan was deliberately targeted and why it was done is not yet known," the NCB report stated.

The Central Government in May had directed the competent authority to take appropriate action against the former NCB official Sameer Wankhede for his shoddy investigation in the cruise drug bust. The Centre's action came soon after the NCB gave a clean chit to Aryan and five others in the case.

Kangana Ranaut to play Bengali theatre star Noti Binodini in biopic

CE FEATURES

KANGANA Ranaut is all set to do another biopic. After Emergency, in which she plays former Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, she will now be seen essaying the role of Noti Binodini, a popular theatre personality from Bengal.

The film will be directed by Pradeep Sarkar, who helmed Parineeta and Mardaani . It is written by Prakash Kapadia who previously wrote Tanhaji: The Unsung Warrior, Black, Padmaavat and Bajirao Mastani.

Born Binodini Dasi in a family of sex workers, she started doing theatre at the age of 12 and is known as one of the first stars of Bengali theatre. She was popularly known as Noti Binodini. Despite having a short career span of 11 years, she is credited to have created a great example for women in theatre and even introducing modern makeup techniques.

Speaking about the development, Kangana, "I am a very big fan of Pradeep Sarkar ji and very happy for this opportunity. Also this will be my first collaboration with Prakash Kapadia ji and I am completely thrilled to be part of this remarkable journey with some of the greatest artist of this country."

Binodini played many roles including those of Pramila, Sita, Draupadi, Radha, Ayesha, Kaikeyi, Motibibi, and Kapalkundala, among others. She was also one of the first South Asian theatre actors to have written her autobiography.

Filmmaker Ram Kamal Mujherjee is also making a film on Binodini. Titled Binodiini Ekti Natir Upakhyan, the film will feature Rukmini Moitra in the titular role.

Kangana is currently working on her directorial, Emergency, which also features her in the lead role. Apart from these, Kangana also has Tejas in the pipeline, in which she will play the role of an air force pilot.

Karan Johar on 10 years of Student of the Year: Wasn't intended to move cinematic mountains

CE FEATURES

KARAN Johar's campus flick Student of the Year (SOTY) turns 10 today. Released a decade ago on October 19, the film marked the Bollywood debuts of Alia Bhatt, Varun Dhawan and Sidharth Malhotra.

Celebrating SOTY's 10th anniversary, Karan shared a mashup video on Instagram and said that the film wasn't meant to 'move any cinematic mountains' but was intended as a 'young, fun and entertaining' film.

He wrote, "SOTY started of as me making a "holiday film"…. A film that certainly wasn't intended to move any cinematic mountains but a film that was young , fun and entertaining … what I didn't realise then that this film would give me so much more than memories or a commercial success … would give so much more than a film in my directorial archives… this film gave me three of my most defining relationships" … Sid, Varun and Alia went on to become my family…..besides my mom they are the three people I think I talk to every single day…. I never knew way back then that I would have children of my own …but my first protective parental feeling was for all three of them… I love you SID! I love you VARUN and I love you ALIA(yes yes I know I am not supposed to keep saying it but what the heck love is love)… I say it to my kids and I want to say it to all 3 of you ….. love you to the moon and back …."

In another post, Karan shared throwback pictures with his lead cast and punned on the names of their recent films.

"Down the years with my students of every year! So proud of their cinema journey! It's no Raaz(I) that they have mastered the ABCD of their craft and emerged as Shershaahs of goodness and talent! Love you #10yearsofsoty," Karan wrote.

Student of the Year told the story of three friends - Abhimanyu, Shanaya and Rohan - who attend St. Teresa's College together. The film follows their ensuing love triangle over many years. SOTY was Karan's first directorial to not star Shah Rukh Khan. An unconnected sequel, Student of the Year 2, starring Tiger Shroff, Tara Sutaria and Ananya Panday, was released in 2019. It was directed by Punit Malhotra and produced by Karan.
